The Hungry Angel:

The Hunger Angel Herta Müller, 2012-04-24 A masterful new novel from the winner of the 2009 Nobel Prize hailed for depicting the landscape of the dispossessed with the concentration of poetry and the frankness of prose Nobel Prize Committee It was an icy morning in January 1945 when the patrol came for seventeen year old Leo Auberg to deport him to a camp in the Soviet Union Leo would spend the next five years in a coke processing plant shoveling coal lugging bricks mixing mortar and battling the relentless calculus of hunger that governed the labor colony one shovel load of coal is worth one gram of bread In her new novel Nobel laureate Herta Müller calls upon her unique combination of poetic intensity and dispassionate precision to conjure the distorted world of the labor camp in all its physical and moral absurdity She has given Leo the language to express the inexpressible as hunger sharpens his senses into an acuity that is both hallucinatory and profound In scene after disorienting scene the most ordinary objects accrue tender poignancy as they acquire new purpose a gramophone box serves as a suitcase a handkerchief becomes a talisman an enormous piece of casing pipe functions as a lovers trysting place The heart is reduced to a pump the breath mechanized to the rhythm of a swinging shovel and coal sand and snow have a will of their own Hunger becomes an insatiable angel who haunts the camp but also a bare knuckled sparring partner delivering blows that keep Leo feeling the rawest connection to life Müller has distilled Leo's struggle into words of breathtaking intensity that take us on a journey far beyond the Gulag and into the depths of one man's soul The Hungry Angel Roger Vadim, 1983 Rage in the Belly Luzia Sutter Rehmann, 2021-02-03 How is rage related to hunger Hunger is a liminal experience connected to powerlessness shame and violence Hunger does not issue into speech It cannot therefore be easily found in the biblical texts written by and about people who knew hunger It hides behind the words in these texts Rage conversely finds expression and in the texts it can alert readers to hidden experiences of hunger But rage is not just a response to the lack of food It is also a transformative force reaching towards a justice that is not yet real The experience of hunger and the fear of famine often go hand in hand with anger a rage that can bring whole populations to their feet Luzia Sutter Rehmann develops a biblical hermeneutic that centers on the fire in the belly of the hungry their rage that leads to protests and uprisings Her reading shows the poor or the many as those with whom Jesus cooperates and as subjects acting on their own initiative The book also highlights key socio historical information on the food situation of ancient Rome and Palestine on poverty political dependence and unrest droughts and famines Angel's Flight Don Ryan, 1927 Los Angeles as seen by a cynical journalist Cf Hanna A Mirror for the nation Angels and Heaven Thomas Mills (of Nottingham.), 1872 Reading the Modern European Novel since 1900 Daniel R. Schwarz, 2018-03-14 An exploration of the modern European novel from a renowned English literature scholar Reading the Modern European Novel since 1900 is an engaging in depth examination of the evolution of the modern European novel Written in Daniel R Schwarz's precise and highly readable style this critical study offers compelling discussions on a wide range of major works since 1900 and examines recurring themes within the context of significant historical events including both World Wars and the Holocaust. The author cites important developments in the evolution of the modern novel and explores how these paradigmatic works of fiction reflect intellectual and cultural history including developments in painting and cinema. Schwarz focuses on narrative complexity, thematic subtlety, and formal originality, as well as how novels render historical events and cultural developments. Discussing major works by Proust, Camus, Mann, Kafka, Grass, di Lampedusa, Bassani, Kertész, Pamuk, Kundera, Saramago, Müller, and Ferrante, Schwarz explores how these often experimental masterworks pay homage to their major predecessors discussed in Schwarz's ground-breaking Reading the European Novel to 1900, even while proposing radical departures from realism in their approach to time and space, their testing the limits of language, and their innovative ways of rendering the human psyche. Written for teachers and students by a highly acclaimed scholar and including valuable study questions, Reading the Modern European Novel since 1900 offers a guide for a deeper understanding of how these original modern masters respond to both the past and present.

St. Andrew's Cross, 1918 Angel's Roost Janet Spaeth, 2003 When Tess Mahoney, owner of Angel's Roost store, meets Jack Cameron, the owner of a coffee shop, they find they have more in common than being business owners. As she realizes her feelings towards him are changing, she begins to wonder: can she help him restore the faith he's lost?

The Same Stuff As Stars Katherine Paterson, 2013-04-30 2013 Laura Ingalls Wilder Award. Angel Morgan needs help: Daddy is in jail and Mama has abandoned her, and her little brother, leaving them with their great grandmother. Grandma is aged and poor and doesn't make any attempt to care for the children that's left up to Angel, even though she is not yet twelve. The only bright spot in Angel's existence is the Star Man, a mysterious stranger who appears on clear nights and teaches her all about the stars and planets and constellations. We're made out of the same stuff as the stars, he tells her. Eventually, Grandma warms to the children, and the three begin to cobble together a makeshift family. Then events in Angel's life take yet another downturn, and she must once again find a way to persevere. Katherine Paterson's keen sensitivity and penetrating sense of drama bring us a moving story of throwaway children, reminding us of the incredible resilience of childhood and the unquenchable spirit that, in spite of loss, struggles to new beginnings.

Benson* Bernard GILPIN (Rector of St.-Andrew's, Hertford.), 1874 The Right to Difference Nicole Coleman, 2021-10-14 The Right to Difference examines novels that depict human rights violations in order to explore causes of intergroup violence within diverse societies, using Germany as a test case. In these texts, the book shows that an exaggeration of difference between minority and majority groups leads to violence. Germany has become increasingly diverse over the past decades due to skilled labor migration and refugee movements In light of this diversity this book s approach transcends a divide between migrant and post migrant German literature on the one hand and a national literature on the other hand Addressing competing definitions of national identity as well as the contest between cultural homogeneity and diversity the author redefines the term intercultural literature It becomes not a synonym for authors who do not belong to a national literature such as migrant writers but a way of reading literature with an intercultural lens This book builds a theory of intercultural literature that focuses on the multifaceted nature of identity in which ethnicity represents only one of many characteristics defining individuals To develop intercultural competence one needs to adopt a complex image of individuals that allows for commonalities and differences by complicating the notion of sharp contrasts between groups Revealing the affective allegiances formed around other characteristics gender profession personal motivations relationships and more allows for similarities that grouping into large homogeneous and seemingly exclusive entities conceals Eight novels analyzed in this book remember and reveal human rights violations such as genocide internment and torture violent expulsion the reasons for fleeing a country dangerous flight routes and the difficulty of settling in a new country Some of these novels allow for affective identification with diverse characters and cast the protagonists as individuals with plural perspectives and identities rather than monolithic members of one large national or ethnic group whereas others emphasize the commonalities of all people Ultimately the author makes the case for German Studies to contribute to an antiracist approach to diversity by redefining what it means to be German and establishing difference as a fundamental human right
