Toward Nuclear Abolition:

Toward Nuclear Abolition Lawrence S. Wittner, 2022 Toward Nuclear Abolition presents the inspiring dramatic story of how citizen activists helped curb the arms race and prevent nuclear war Examining events from 1971 to the present the author continues the account he began in two earlier volumes One World or None and Resisting the Bomb The book shows how pressure from the Nuclear Freeze campaign in the United States the European Nuclear Disarmament campaign and comparable movements around the world foiled the nuclear ambitions of hawkish government officials and forced them toward nuclear arms control and disarmament A leading historian and peace researcher the author combines extensive scholarly research with a pathbreaking account of how the largest mass movement of modern times saved the world from nuclear annihilation

The Challenge of Abolishing Nuclear Weapons David Krieger, 2017-07-05 In the more than sixty years since the advent of nuclear weapons there has been little meaningful progress toward nuclear disarmament Some countries have nuclear weapons while other states are forbidden to acquire them a status quo that lacks rational basis and cannot be sustained In this remarkable collection scholars and policy analysts argue that humankind has a choice either allow nuclear weapons to continue to proliferate throughout the world or move toward their complete elimination The vast majority of people on the planet would surely opt to abolish nuclear weapons But decisions about nuclear weapons are not made by the public but by small groups of political elites Consequently in a world with nuclear weapons the fate of humanity rests in the hands of a small number of individuals whose perceptions communications and judgment determine whether there is to be a future The contributors to this volume provide historical perspective on nuclear weapons policy explore the role of international law in furthering the prospects of nuclear weapons abolition consider the obstacles to abolition present a path to achieving a nuclear weapons free world and look beyond abolition to consider issues of post abolition sovereignty and general and complete disarmament The goal of a nuclear weapons free world can be awakened by an engaged citizenry bringing pressure from below in demanding action from political leaders This book contributes to this awakening and engagement

Toward Nuclear Abolition Lawrence S. Wittner, 1993 The final volume in the trilogy The Struggle Against the Bomb this book presents the inspiring and dramatic story of how citizen activists helped curb the arms race and prevent nuclear war

Confronting the Bomb Lawrence S. Wittner, 2009-05-12 Confronting the Bomb tells the dramatic inspiring story of how citizen activism helped curb the nuclear arms race and prevent nuclear war This abbreviated version of Lawrence Wittner's award winning trilogy The Struggle Against the Bomb shows how a worldwide grassroots campaign the largest social movement of modern times challenged the nuclear priorities of the great powers and ultimately thwarted their nuclear ambitions Based on massive research in the files of peace and disarmament organizations and in formerly top secret government records extensive interviews with antinuclear activists and government officials and memoirs and other published materials Confronting the Bomb opens a unique window on one of the most important issues of the modern era survival in the nuclear age It covers the entire period of significant opposition to the bomb from the final stages of the Second World War up to the present Along the way it provides fascinating glimpses of the interaction of key nuclear disarmament activists and policymakers including Albert Einstein Harry Truman Albert Schweitzer Norman Cousins Nikita Khrushchev Bertrand Russell Andrei Sakharov Linus Pauling Dwight Eisenhower Harold Macmillan John F Kennedy Randy Forsberg Mikhail Gorbachev Helen Caldicott E P Thompson and Ronald Reagan Overall however it is a story of popular mobilization and its effectiveness

INTRODUCTION This volume is a collection of papers presented at the international workshop on Buddhist Approach to Global Education in Ethics which is being held on May 13 2019 at International Conference Center Tam Chuc Ha Nam Vietnam on the occasion of the 16th United Nations Day of Vesak Celebrations 2019 The aim is to throw new light on the values of the global ethical system with a focus on the Buddhist approach in deepening our understanding of how Buddhist ethics can deliver a social change in the globalized world REVIEW OF CONTENTS Prof P D Premasiri in his paper titled Universally valid ethical norms of Buddhism applicable to global education in ethics deals with hindrance in determining the basis for global education in ethics and providing undeniable facts about the diversity involved in ethical norms principles and attitudes of various global communities The author also discusses the characteristics of Buddhist teaching on a humanistic approach to the moral life with perceptions of enlightened humans i e Knowledgeable Persons vi puris The paper places further emphasis on the necessity to draw the attention of educators to train the minds of humans on ethical choices in accordance with such decisions The paper entitled Teaching Buddhist Ethics through the Life of the Buddha and Jesus by Abraham Velez De Cea has proposed a new approach to the Buddhist ethical way of teaching and its application through interpretations of the Buddha s life from the perspective of virtue ethics and meditation The purpose is to heighten the Buddhist contribution being made to global education in ethical issues The paper is divided into two parts Buddhist ethics as a form of virtue ethics and secondly interpretation of the Buddha s teachings from the perspective of virtue ethics and meditation

Preventing Nuclear War John Loretz, Marion Birch, Leo van Bergen,2020-06-09 Preventing Nuclear War The Medical and Humanitarian Case for the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons provides a window into the work of the International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War IPPNW health professionals advocates and activists as they persuaded diplomats parliamentarians the media and the public to ban nuclear weapons Why are doctors speaking out about nuclear weapons and nuclear war an issue that seems to be the exclusive province of diplomats politicians and security experts This volume offers an answer in the unique perspective of health professionals on the nature of nuclear weapons their medical and humanitarian consequences and the responsibility to prevent what cannot be treated On 7 July 2017 the UN successfully concluded negotiations on the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons The ban treaty emerged from a humanitarian initiative that shifted the focus away from deterrence based rationales used by the nuclear armed states and toward an evidence based understanding of the existential threat nuclear weapons pose to humanity Since 1980 IPPNW has been the leading medical organization primarily dedicated to the abolition of nuclear weapons With its civil society partners in ICAN the International Campaign to Abolish Nuclear Weapons IPPNW brought the scientific evidence about nuclear weapons and nuclear war into the treaty negotiations and into the language of the TPNW itself The contributors to this volume show the dedication and diverse strategies that have together made up a unified and very significant contribution to ridding the world of nuclear weapons Reflecting honestly on what has been learnt and have the potential to contribute to wider learning outside the anti nuclear community Preventing Nuclear War The Medical and Humanitarian Case for the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons will be of great use to medical and health professionals humanitarian professionals and anyone wanting to work towards a more peaceful and equitable world The chapters originally published as a special issue of Medicine Conflict and Survival Survival December 2021-January 2022: Trials of Liberalism The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS),2023-04-21 Survival the IISS s bimonthly journal challenges conventional wisdom and brings fresh often controversial perspectives on strategic issues of the moment In this issue Gigi Kwik Gronvall examines the contested origin of SARS CoV 2 and argues that scientific work should be apolitical and globally cooperated including with China Lawrence Freedman contends that while liberalism is in crisis it should still be better than authoritarianism at adapting to new circumstances acknowledging salient problems and choosing among alternatives Robert S Ross argues that Chinese strategists believe Beijing can challenge a strategically weakened United States on the Korean Peninsula Ondrej Rosendorf Michal Smetana and Marek Vranka assess that persuading the public that nuclear abolition is feasible could strengthen disarmament advocacy And nine more thought provoking pieces as well as our regular Book Reviews and Noteworthy column Editor Dr Dana Allin Managing Editor Jonathan Stevenson Associate Editor Carolyn West Assistant Editor Jessica Watson

Abolition of Nuclear Weapons as a Moral Imperative John Kultgen,2015-02-17

Abolition of Nuclear Weapons as a Moral Imperative argues that the use of nuclear weapons as a threat in policies of nuclear deterrence violate basic principles of morality and consequently the abolition of nuclear weapons from the world is a moral imperative nations that have them The focus is on the United States since it will have to take the lead in any program of abolition The argument is formulated in terms accessible to theorists in different disciplines and activists in a large range of causes It appeals to principles that are widely shared but whose application to national policies especially to deterrence by threats of mass destruction has been debated ever since nuclear weapons were developed The book explains what is meant by the immorality of a national policy the stake which citizens have in their agents acting morally and the role of their opinions in seeing that they do The argument of the book is couched in terms of consequences The effects of the U S nuclear deterrent on the probability of nuclear war are difficult to calculate but the harms for the country and others across the globe caused by the immense apparatus necessary to make U S threats credible are sufficient to condemn the policy The last part of the book is devoted to way the U S can take the lead in safe and effective steps necessary to abolish the weapons and prevent their reintroduction into the world Freeze! Henry Richard Maar III,2022-01-15 In Freeze Henry Richard

Maar III chronicles the rise of the transformative and transnational Nuclear Weapons Freeze Campaign Amid an escalating Cold War that pitted the nuclear arsenal of the United States against that of the Soviet Union the grassroots peace movement emerged sweeping the nation and uniting people around the world The solution for the arms race that the Campaign proposed a bilateral freeze on the building testing and deployment of nuclear weapons on the part of two superpowers of the US and the USSR That simple but powerful proposition stirred popular sentiment and provoked protest in the streets and on screen from New York City to London to Berlin Movie stars and scholars bishops and reverends governors and congress members and ultimately US President Reagan and General Secretary Gorbachev took a stand for or against the Freeze proposal With the Reagan administration so openly discussing the prospect of winnable and survivable nuclear warfare like never before the Freeze movement forcefully translated decades of private fears into public action Drawing upon extensive archival research in recently declassified materials Maar illuminates how the Freeze campaign demonstrated the power and importance of grassroots peace activism in all levels of society The Freeze movement played an instrumental role in shaping public opinion and American politics helping establish the conditions that would bring the Cold War to an end Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,2008

Nuclear Abolition A Scenario Timmon Wallis,2025-05-30 Nuclear weapons pose an existential threat to humanity They can and must be abolished This book sets out a scenario for doing exactly that starting with the fact that half the world has already committed to nuclear abolition through the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons TPNW As more and more countries join this new treaty the pressure will build on the nine countries that currently possess nuclear weapons This pressure will especially be felt by a relatively small number of private US companies that are contracted to develop build and maintain these weapons for the United States These companies do not just make nuclear weapons for the United States They make other products that are sold all over the world They have contracts suppliers investors offices and other facilities in other countries including those that are already party to the TPNW or soon will be As those countries strengthen their own laws and norms against nuclear weapons companies involved in the nuclear weapons business will increasingly find themselves facing reputational and legislative risk including potential prison sentences for having anything to do with nuclear weapons in those countries A growing movement within the United States that is committed to divesting from boycotting and stigmatizing these companies adds to the pressure these companies are under Even without the added pressures coming from whole countries divestment and boycott campaigns in the US were hugely successful in the 1980s at getting many household names like General Electric Ford Dupont Motorola and others out of the nuclear weapons business These tactics helped push President Reagan to the negotiating table with Gorbachev and they can be effective again today There are many other steps and possible pathways to finally ridding the world of nuclear weapons but the one described here shows nuclear abolition is possible and the pieces are already in place to make it happen

Towards a Secure World in the Twenty-first Century Joseph Rotblat,1990 Towards Nuclear Zero Raimo

Väyrynen, 2013-05-13 Rarely in the atomic age have hopes been raised as high as they are now for genuine progress toward disarmament. The new receptivity reflected in the policy declarations of many governments was sparked by a wave of private initiatives led by former senior policy leaders in many countries. This book examines practical steps for achieving progress toward disarmament realistically assessing both challenges and opportunities associated with achieving a world without nuclear weapons. The book places the current debate over nuclear abolition in the context of urgent non-proliferation priorities and the need to prevent nuclear weapons from falling into the hands of extremist regimes and terrorists. It examines the reasons why more than two dozen states have given up nuclear programs over the years and distills lessons from the end of the cold war to offer policy recommendations for moving toward lessened global reliance on nuclear weapons. Also included are in-depth analyses of proliferation challenges and disarmament opportunities in North Korea and Iran. The book concludes with a detailed roadmap for moving progressively toward global nuclear zero. It proposes a new international security regime based on shared missile defences, non-weaponized deterrence, and greater efforts to enhance transnational cooperation.

How Soka Gakkai Became a Global Buddhist Movement Daniel Alfred Mettraux, 2010. The Soka Gakkai is a massive Japan-based New Religious Movement based on the Buddhist teachings of the medieval Buddhist monk Nichiren. This work examines Soka Gakkai International chapters in Australia, Southeast Asia, Cambodia, the Philippines, and Quebec to determine why the movement has developed strong roots among people from widely divergent cultures.
