Unbought and Unbossed Shirley Chisholm, 2010 Chisholm recalls her remarkable rise from young girl in Brooklyn to America's first African American Congresswoman. She shares how she took on an entrenched system that gave a public voice to millions and forever changed the status quo. Unbought and Unbossed W. Donald Wood, 1970 Paving the Way for Madam President Nichola D. Gutgold, 2006 When the first woman president moves into the White House she will not only be indebted to the tireless campaign workers staff press family friends and of course the voters who got her there but Madam President will also have her sisters to thank for paving the way. Among these women are Margaret Chase Smith the stalwart Republican senator from Maine who made a bid for the presidency in 1964 Shirley Chisholm the fiery New York congresswoman who described herself as unbought and unbossed in 1972 Patricia Schroeder the silvery tongued and brilliant former Colorado congresswoman who briefly ran in 1988 Elizabeth Dole a North Carolina senator who made an impressive showing as a presidential candidate in 2000 and the articulate one term Illinois senator Carol Moseley Braun who ran in 2004 This book chronicles the lives communication styles and presidential bids of these five remarkable women while also addressing the obstacles and opportunities for women as presidential contenders A Seat at the Table Glenn L. Starks, F. Erik Brooks, 2024-03-19 When Shirley Chisholm was asked why she would dare run for president her response was why not her Shirley Anita St Hill Chisholm rose from being the child of immigrants to the United States to running for the highest office in the land. She was both the first African American woman elected to the US Congress and the first African American woman of a major political party to make a serious run for president of the United States. These achievements were not in spite of her background but rather because of it. She persevered by being steadfast in her political convictions and unwilling to compromise on the issues she believed in. Chisholm directly challenged the political establishment and gave a political voice to so many segments of society that were historically ignored: women, racial minorities, young people, the gay community, domestic and agricultural workers, and the poor, not only in her home district in Brooklyn, New York, but across the country. Her run for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination may not have ended in victory, but it was successful in forging a grassroots campaign that united diverse Americans behind a candidate who championed their collective interests. Her efforts laid the groundwork for change then, now, and in the future. Without Shirley Chisholm, there may not have been a Hillary Clinton, Barack Obama, or Kamala Harris. Women of Congress Marcy Kaptur, 1996 Traces the history of women legislators in Congress, providing an overview of the achievements and progress of women in the House and Senate during three separate periods in history and including the personal stories of congresswomen who served in each different era The Liberals' Moment Bruce Miroff, 2009 Revisits the largely forgotten story of how the McGovern campaign represented the zenith of sixties style liberalism and how its historic defeat still haunts Democrats to this day and in the process identifies what Democrats must do before they can reassume their role as agents of progressive change Curriculum Connections - Shirley Chisholm, 2015 And the achievements of the Black Civil Rights Movement in the 1950s and 1960s Chisholm and many feminist leaders of her time pursued a Women's Rights agenda that won important gains for women throughout the 1970s and after Though the House Speaker told her to be a good soldier and accept the assignment Shirley confronted the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and was eventually reassigned to the Veterans Affairs Committee and later to the Education and Labor Committee's House of Representatives Shirley made clear her commitment to the needs of children and the disadvantaged and proclaimed her intent to vote No on every money bill that comes to the floor of this House that provides any funds for the Department of Defense During her fourteen years in the House Shirley fought for the rights of women Native Americans Haitian refugees migrant farm workers and There is very little understanding yet of the immorality involved in double pay scales and the classification of most of the better jobs as for men only More than half of the population of the United States is female And women that do not conform to the system who try to break with the accepted patterns are stigmatized as odd and unfeminine The fact is that a woman who aspires to be chairman of the board or a Member of the House does so for exactly the same reasons as any man Black Writers Linda Metzger, 1989 Biographical and bibliographical entries on some 400 black authors active in the 20th century Some of the sketches are updated from Gale's Contemporary authors series others were written especially for this volume Covers not only contemporary American authors but also earlier 20th century writers social figures e.g. Malcolm X Desmond Tutu and important African and Caribbean writers In addition to the descriptive personal and career information there are illuminating biographical critical essays including comments often by the authors themselves on personal interests aspirations motivations and thoughts on writing Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
