Langtry,1998 Change is the only constant in Australian telecommunications today Although there is bipartisan political support for universal service as a goal questions remain What kind of service should be universal and at what price Will the advent of an open market bring new telecommunications services to all of us or will some Australians be left behind Have governments placed too much faith in the market and neglected the ethical dimensions of access to telecommunications All Connected takes a timely look at the ethical questions involved in current public policy debates around these issues Practitioners from a number of different fields examine the changing uses and governance of our telecommunications system and the implications of these changes

The Political Economy of Telecommunications Reform in Developing Countries Ben Petrazzini,1995-10-18 Based on a policy making theoretical framework and on the recent experiences of 10 developing countries this study explores the factors that lead to the success or failure of telecommunications reform It provides universal conclusions that might help predict the success or failure of telecommunications policies such as privatization and liberalization in other nations that are moving towards reform This book is an original contribution to our understanding of the rapid and often complex transformations in telecommunications policies It defies previous assumptions about conditions for success and failure of policy implementation Although numerous publications deal with telecommunications policy reform in Europe or the United States little has been written about it in the developing world This book fills the gap and will be invaluable for academics policy makers and others concerned with communications economic development and international business

Telecommunications Take-off in Transition Countries Karl-Ernst Schenk,Jörn Kruse,Jürgen Müller,1997 This book is about policies in the most important transition countries towards a take off in networks and services development especially new ones and about other development factors and transitional constraints making the take off more or less successful
