Unmasked Conflict:

Unmasked Conflict Wilson Awasu, 2001-10-01 Awasu believes that graceful living can shatter self destructive lifestyles as long as one has the willingness to yield will word ways and works to God s will word ways and work Design Thinking Research Christoph Meinel, Larry Leifer, 2021-03-26 Extensive research conducted by the Hasso Plattner Design Thinking Research Program at Stanford University in Palo Alto California USA and the Hasso Plattner Institute in Potsdam Germany has yielded valuable insights on why and how design thinking works The participating researchers have identified metrics developed models and conducted studies which are featured in this book and in the previous volumes of this series This volume provides readers with tools to bridge the gap between research and practice in design thinking with varied real world examples Several different approaches to design thinking are presented in this volume Acquired frameworks are leveraged to understand design thinking team dynamics The contributing authors lead the reader through new approaches and application fields and show that design thinking can tap the potential of digital technologies in a human centered way In a final section new ideas in neurodesign at Stanford University and at Hasso Plattner Institute in Potsdam are elaborated upon thereby challenging the reader to consider newly developed methodologies and provide discussion of how these insights can be applied to various sectors Special emphasis is placed on understanding the mechanisms underlying design thinking at the individual and team levels Design thinking can be learned It has a methodology that can be observed across multiple settings and accordingly the reader can adopt new frameworks to modify and update existing practice The research outcomes compiled in this book are intended to inform and provide inspiration for all those seeking to drive innovation be they experienced design thinkers or newcomers Peacebuilding and the Arts Jolyon Mitchell, Giselle Vincett, Theodora Hawksley, Hal Culbertson, 2019-11-19 Ending violent conflict requires societies to take leaps of political imagination Artistic communities are often uniquely placed to help promote new thinking by enabling people to see things differently In place of conflict s binary divisions artists are often charged with exploring the ambiguities and possibilities of the excluded middle Yet their role in peacebuilding remains little explored This excellent and agenda setting volume provides a ground breaking look at a range of artistic practices and the ways in which they have attempted to support peacebuilding a must read for all practitioners and policy makers and indeed other peacemakers looking for inspiration Professor Christine Bell FBA Professor of Constitutional Law Assistant Principal Global Justice and co director of the Global Justice Academy The University of Edinburgh UK Peacebuilding and the Arts offers an impressive and impressively comprehensive engagement with the role that visual art music literature film and theatre play in building peaceful and just societies Without idealizing the role of the arts the authors explore their potential and limits in a wide range of cases from Korea Cambodia Colombia and Northern Ireland to Uganda Rwanda South Africa and Israel Palestine Roland Bleiker Professor of International Relations University of Queensland Australia and author of Aesthetics and World Politics and Visual Global Politics Peacebuilding and the Arts is the first publication to focus critically and comprehensively on the relations between the creative arts and peacebuilding expanding the conventional boundaries of peacebuilding and conflict transformation to include the artist actor poet novelist dramatist musician dancer and film director The sections on the visual arts music literature film and theatre include case studies from very different cultures contexts and settings but a central theme is that the creative arts can play a unique and crucial role in the building of peaceful and just societies with the power to transform relationships heal wounds and nurture compassion and empathy Peacebuilding and the Arts is a vital and unique resource which will stimulate critical discussion and further research but it will also help to refine and reframe our understanding of peacebuilding While it will undoubtedly become mandatory reading for students of peacebuilding and the arts its original approach and dynamic exploratory style should attract a much wider interdisciplinary audience Professor Anna King Professor of Religious Studies and Social Anthropology and Director of Research Centre of Religion Reconciliation and Peace WCRRP University of Winchester UK This volume explores the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Through a series of original essays authors consider some of the ways that different art forms including film theatre music literature dance and other forms of visual art can contribute to the processes and practices of building peace This book breaks new ground by setting out fresh ways of analysing the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Divided into five sections on the Visual Arts Music Literature Film and Theatre Dance over 20 authors offer conceptual overviews of each art form as well as new case studies from around the globe and critical reflections on how the arts can contribute to peacebuilding As interest in the topic increases no other book approaches this complex relationship in the way that Peacebuilding and the Arts does By bringing together the insights of scholars and practitioners working at the intersection of the arts and peacebuilding this book develops a series of unique critical perspectives on the interaction of diverse art forms with a range of peacebuilding endeavours The Freethinker, 1914 Ukraine's Revolt, Russia's Revenge Christopher M. Smith, 2022-03-15 The book also details Russia's attempt to abort the Ukrainian revolution through threats economic pressure lies and intimidation When all of that failed the Kremlin exacted revenge by annexing Ukraine's territory of Crimea and fomenting and sustaining a hybrid war in eastern Ukraine that has killed more than 13 000 people and continues to this day Ukraine's Revolt Russia's Revenge is based on the author's own observations and the multitude of reports of his Embassy colleagues who were eyewitnesses to a crucial event in contemporary history Is Conflict Adaptation an Illusion? James R Schmidt, Wim Notebaert, Eva Van Den Bussche, 2015-05-20 Conflict adaptation theory is one of the most popular theories in cognitive psychology The theory argues that participants strategically modulate attention away from distracting stimulus features in response to conflict Although results with proportion congruent sequential congruency and similar paradigms seem consistent with the conflict adaptation view some researchers have expressed scepticism The paradigms used in the study of conflict adaptation require the manipulation of stimulus frequencies sequential dependencies time on task regularities and various other task regularities that introduce the potential for learning of conflict unrelated information This results in the unintentional confounding of measures of conflict adaptation with simpler learning and memory biases There are also alternative accounts which propose that attentional adaptation does occur but via different mechanisms such as valence expectancy or effort A significant and often heated debate remains surrounding the question of whether conflict adaptation exists independent of these alternative mechanisms of action The aim of this Research Topic is to provide a forum for current directions in this area considering perspectives from all sides of the debate

The Healing of Nations Mark R. Amstutz, 2005 How does one forgive an international political transgression as deep as genocide or apartheid Forgiveness is often conceived of as an element of personal morality and even at that it is difficult This book argues that it is also an essential part of political ethics especially when dealing with collective wrongdoing by political regimes In the past a retributive justice demanding prosecution and punishment of all past offenses has kept the international community away from moving on to the next step in regime change Here Mark R Amstutz takes a restorative justice approach calling for nations to account for crimes through truth commissions public apology and repentance reparations and ultimately forgiveness and the lifting of deserved penalties The distinctive feature of forgiveness is the balance it strikes between backward looking accountability and forward looking reconciliation The Healing of Nations combines a theory of the role of forgiveness in public life with four key case studies that test this ethic Argentina Chile Northern Ireland and South Africa Amstutz uses the hard cases to illustrate the promise and limits of forgiving without forgetting

Ethnographic Peace Research Gearoid Millar, 2017-11-24 This volume calls for an empirical extension of the local turn within peace research Building on insights from conflict transformation gender studies critical International Relations and Anthropology the contributions critique existing peace research methods as affirming unequal power marginalizing local communities and stripping the peace kept of substantive agency and voice By incorporating scholars from these various fields the volume pushes for more locally grounded ethnographic and potentially participatory approaches While recognizing that any Ethnographic Peace Research EPR agenda must incorporate a variety of methodologies the volume nonetheless paves a clear path for the much needed empirical turn within the local turn literature
