During this period people were frequently able to eat everything they wanted since they were burning significantly more calories than consuming. The good times have gone by and today's society's technology has left us in a single state that of being obese. Our way of life has shifted dramatically and our comfort level has improved tenfold as a result. Every rose has its thorn and for our society our desire to live comfortable lives while working less has begun to manifest itself in the form of a bulging waistline. The unfortunate aspect of all of this is that the more weight you gain the more dangerous it becomes. Extra weight is a harbinger of illness whether it manifests itself as diabetes or a heart condition it will eventually manifest itself if you do nothing to address it. You must be proactive in gaining weight and you must struggle to lose it until you reach a position where you no longer have control. It is unnecessary to be toned and sculpted but rather to maintain a healthy weight that is not life threatening. It is possible to focus on your abs later for now all that is required is that you lose some excess body fat. As society comes to terms with the fact that we are becoming increasingly overweight as a population people are attempting to play catch up and work from behind. To lose weight and live a better lifestyle they are making an effort. Learn 100 Weight Loss Tips
