Patterson,2008 In North America between 1894 and 1930 the rise of the New Woman sparked controversy on both sides of the Atlantic and around the world As she demanded a public voice as well as private fulfillment through work education and politics American journalists debated and defined her Who was she and where did she come from Was she to be celebrated as the agent of progress or reviled as a traitor to the traditional family Over time the dominant version of the American New Woman became typified as white educated and middle class the suffragist progressive reformer and bloomer wearing bicyclist By the 1920s the jazz dancing flapper epitomized her Yet she also had many other faces Bringing together a diverse range of essays from the periodical press of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Martha H Patterson shows how the New Woman differed according to region class politics race ethnicity and historical circumstance In addition to the New Woman s prevailing incarnations she appears here as a gun wielding heroine imperialist symbol assimilationist icon entrepreneur socialist anarchist thief vamp and eugenicist Together these readings redefine our

from the Magna Carta to the United Nations Glasgow Climate Pact Woman's World, 1965 The Woman Question: Social issues Elizabeth K. Helsinger, 1989 The Coupling Convention : Sex, Text, and Tradition in Black Women's Fiction Ann duCille Associate Professor of English and African American Studies Wesleyan University, 1993-10-19 What does the tradition of marriage mean for people who have historically been deprived of its legal status Generally thought of as a convention of the white middle class the marriage plot has received little attention from critics of African American literature In this study Ann duCille uses texts such as Nella Larsen s Quicksand 1928 and Zora Neale Hurston s Their Eyes Were Watching God 1937 to demonstrate that the African American novel like its European and Anglo American counterparts has developed around the marriage plot what she calls the coupling convention Exploring the relationship between racial ideology and literary and social conventions duCille uses the coupling convention to trace the historical development of the African American women s novel She demonstrates the ways in which black women appropriated this novelistic device as a means of expressing and reclaiming their own identity More than just a study of the marriage tradition in black women s fiction however The Coupling Convention takes up and takes on many different meanings of tradition It challenges the notion of a single black literary tradition or of a single black feminist literary canon grounded in specifically black female language and experience as it explores the ways in which white and black male and female mainstream and marginalized traditions and canons have influenced and cross fertilized each other Much more than a period study The Coupling Convention spans the period from 1853 to 1948 addressing the vital questions of gender subjectivity race and the canon that inform literary study today In this original work duCille offers a new paradigm for reading black women s fiction
