The Routledge International Handbook of Jungian Film Studies Luke Hockley, 2019-12-09 Winner of the IAJS award for best edited book of 2018 The Routledge International Handbook of Jungian Film Studies weaves together the various strands of Jungian film theory revealing a coherent theoretical position underpinning this exciting recent area of research while also exploring and suggesting new directions for further study The book maps the current state of debates within Jungian orientated film studies and sets them within a more expansive academic landscape Taken as a whole the collection shows how different Jungian approaches can inform and interact with a broad range of disciplines including literature digital media studies clinical debates and concerns The book also explores the life of film outside cinema what is sometimes termed post cinema offering a series of articles exploring Jungian approaches to cinema and social media computer games mobile screens and on line communities The Routledge International Handbook of Jungian Film Studies represents an essential resource for students and researchers interested in Jungian approaches to film It will also appeal to those interested in film theory more widely and in the application of Jung's ideas to contemporary and popular culture

Consciousness Unbound Edward F. Kelly, Paul Marshall, 2021-03-16 Building on the groundbreaking research of Irreducible Mind and Beyond Physicalism Edward Kelly and Paul Marshall gather a cohort of leading scholars to consider the significance of extraordinary experiences for our understanding of reality Currently emerging as a middle ground between warring fundamentalisms of religion and science an expanded science based understanding of nature finally accommodates empirical realities of spiritual sorts while also rejecting rationally untenable overbeliefs The vision sketched here provides an antidote to the prevailing postmodern disenchantment of the world and demeaning of human possibilities It not only more accurately and fully reflects our human condition but engenders hope and encourages ego surpassing forms of human flourishing It offers reasons for us to believe that freedom is real that our human choices matter and that we have barely scratched the surface of our human potentials It also addresses the urgent need for a greater sense of worldwide community and interdependence a sustainable ethos by demonstrating that under the surface we and the world are much more extensively interconnected than previously recognized

Myth, Mind and the Screen John Izod, 2001-12-06 This 2001 book is a systematic attempt to apply Jungian theory to the analysis of key contemporary icons and films

War, Peace and Organizational Ethics Michael Schwartz, Howard Harris, 2020-09-17 In this double blind peer reviewed volume expert contributors draw upon philosophers such as Aristotle Alasdair MacIntyre and Emmanuel Levinas in order to explore how the ethics of war and peace resonate with organizational ethics

Philosophy of the Unconscious: Metaphysics of the unconscious Eduard von Hartmann, 1893 V 1 The class of books to which the Philosophy of the Unconscious belongs is all but unrepresented in our literature but the absence of similar home productions can no longer be held to imply either an inability to comprehend their scope or an indifference to their results To what shall we attribute the welcome accorded of late to certain reproductions and elucidations of the master works of modern Transcendentalism if not to the awakening of a long repressed desire to re examine the foundations of a spiritual fabric for whose stability an instinctive confidence alone made answer To many two attitudes of mind have become insupportable that of total unconcern about fundamental truth and that of unthinking acquiescence in the admission of merely juxtaposed and uncommunicating spheres of positive knowledge and impenetrable nescience PsycINFO Database Record c 2011 APA all rights reserved Western Medical Times George Lee Servoss, 1920
