Online Learning is the first volume to explore the lives and scholarship of women who have prominently advanced online learning. From its humble origins as distance education courses conducted via postal correspondence to today's advances in the design and delivery of dynamic technology-enhanced instruction, the ever-evolving field of online learning continues to be informed by the seminal research and institutional leadership of women. This landmark book details 30 preeminent female academics, including some of the first to create online courses, design learning management systems, research innovative topics such as discourse analysis or open resources, and speak explicitly about gender parity in the field. Offering comprehensive career profiles, original interviews, and research analyses, these chapters are illuminating on their own right while amounting to an essential combination of reference material and primary source.

Encyclopedia of Distance Learning, Second Edition Rogers, Patricia L., Berg, Gary A., Boettcher, Judith V., Howard, Caroline, Justice, Lorraine, Schenk, Karen D., 2009-01-31. Offers comprehensive coverage of the issues, concepts, trends, and technologies of distance learning.

Online and Distance Learning Lawrence A. Tomei, 2008. This comprehensive six-volume collection addresses all aspects of online and distance learning, including information communication technologies applied to education, virtual classrooms, pedagogical systems, Web-based learning, library information systems, virtual universities, and more. It enables libraries to provide a foundational reference to meet the information needs of researchers, educators, practitioners, administrators, and other stakeholders in online and distance learning. The Design, Development, and Implementation of a Virtual Online Classroom Marilyn J. Heath, 1997. Multimedia Technology and Applications Vincent W.S. Chow, 1997-12. With the help of technological advancement and IT innovation, the development of multimedia technology has evolved from an experimental stage to practical applications in industry. Although multimedia research and applications are well established, its revolution has changed at such a rapid pace that yesterday's multimedia technology is obsolete or outdated. The objective of this book is to serve as a bridge to update knowledge in this area. Papers in this book address the applications of multimedia in business. A total of 61 papers selected from 22 countries are included and were presented at the International Conference on Multimedia Technology and Management held in December 11-14, 1996, at the Hong Kong Baptist University. Topics covered are multimedia at work, hypertext, hypermedia, distributed multimedia, education, multimedia training, telecommunications, technology, and business applications. This book will enrich the knowledge of all readers in the use of multimedia technology.

New Learning Environments Linda Shirato, 2001. It's the learning environment, not the wiring. As you will see, without an extremely intelligent engineering design, many of these learning environment-centered service programs would not be possible. It takes a very sophisticated, integrated technologies system infrastructure to mount an effective program of services within the new cybrary. However, you don't wire for the sake of wiring. You wire for a reason: the creation of optimal learning environments. Information Technology at the Gate Jang-Ik Lee, 1996. Media Now Joseph D. Straubhaar, Joseph Straubhaar, Robert LaRose, 2000. The book addresses the main media channels in society their interdependence in light of emergent technologies foundation theories and traditional concepts This book has been revised to offer increased coverage of culture and media and the political economies of media
