Supreme Court, 1902 New Pencil Points, 1925 Moving Rooms John Harris, 2007-01-01 Since at least Tudor times there have been architectural salvages panelling chimney pieces doorways or any fixtures and fittings might be removed from an old interior to be replaced by more fashionable ones Not surprisingly a trade developed and architects builders masons and sculptors sought out these salvages By 1820 there was a growing profession of brokers and dealers in London and a century later antique shops were commonplace throughout England This fascinating book documents the break up sale and re use of salvages in Britain and America where the fashion for so called Period Rooms became a mainstay of the transatlantic trade Much appreciated by museum visitors period rooms have become something of a scholarly embarrassment as research reveals that many were assembled from a variety of sources One American embraced the trade as no other the larger than life William Randolph Hearst who purchased tens of thousands of architectural salvages between 1900 and 1935
