Winter Passing:

A Guide to Asian Philosophy Classics Puqun Li, 2012-07-19 This book guides readers through ten classic works of Asian philosophy. Several major schools of Eastern thought are discussed, including Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Daoism, Taoism, and Chan Zen. The author connects the ideas of these schools to those of Western philosophy, thereby making the material accessible to people who are unfamiliar with the cultures and intellectual traditions of Asia. A wide range of important topics are addressed: reality, time, self-knowledge, ethics, human nature, enlightenment, and death. Shoshone Area Livestock Grazing Management Program, 1979

Winter Passage Judith McDaniel, 1984 This warm and intimate novel set in a Vermont village in the 1970s opens the deeper stories of three women's lives through the door of their friendship with each other. There is Elizabeth, the energetic mother of five who has shocked her hometown by walking out on her lawyer husband. There is Clair, a painter and mother of two teenage daughters who looks at herself, her husband, and her friends with unwavering honesty. And joining the other is Anna, a poet and college professor who is beginning to realize she loves another woman. Their growth individually and their connectedness bring startlingly different changes in each woman's life. Like life, this book follows unpredictable passages. Publisher's description

Reading Time in the Long Poem

Tess Somervell, 2022-10-19 Reading Time tells the story of the long poem in the long eighteenth century as it navigated between narrative and description, progress and digression, and time and space. The long poem emerged between 1660 and 1850 as a medium in which poets could shape and reshape time. Analysing Milton's Paradise Lost, Thomson's The Seasons, and Wordsworth's The Prelude, this study reveals how these poets used both the content and form of their long poems to intervene in contemporary debates about the temporalities of free will, nature, and identity. Reading Time argues that they use the figure of the prospect, the extended landscape, to imagine time as a space onto which different causal configurations could be mapped. In turn, readers have approached these poems as both temporal and spatial forms, as linear processes and as static structures, demonstrating how the long poem can shape a reader's own experience of time.
