The Language Of Oppression :

The Language of Oppression Haig A. Bosmajian, 1983 Examines decadence in our language especially that language which leads to dehumanization and degradation of human beings Powerful illustrations may be found in the fact that for instance Hitler's Final Solution appeared reasonable once the Jews were successfully labelled by the Nazis as sub humans parasites vermin or bacilli So too the subjugation of the American Indian was defensible since they were defined as barbarians and savages The author of this engrossing text that was originally published in 1974 by Public Affairs Press successfully identifies and critically comments on the racist sexist and ethnic slurs still predominant in society today with the hope that this decadence will be cured Winner of the 1983 George Orwell Award from the Committee on Doublespeak of the NCTE

An Intellectual and Cultural Decolonization Ahmed Musa,2021-05-18 Academic Paper from the year 2021 in the subject African Studies Linguistics grade 95 language English abstract This paper deals with the questions of language intellectual and cultural decolonization in post colonial worlds The concern with cultural decolonization hails from different academic spheres and as well as different geographical settings that either experienced European colonialism like in Africa Asia or from geographies with masses who were subjected to a forceful removal and enslavement and subsequently ferried from their indigenous homelands to Europe or America To decolonize culture in this context primarily means to liberate language identity and the intellectual constellation of the colonized communities from the colonial experience that some many believe to have suppressed and subjugated their cultural identities
