

Spy disguise general guide

/u/-kousor

General / effectiveness don't , players will tell you're a spy because you're drastically slower use this instead to fool enemies or make headshots for enemies harder (wouldn't matter though, lol) solider is 9% slower than heavy , so you can only catch up to heavies since it's such a subtle disguise , players can't really spot you , use this to fool them when break the disguise and go for the kill i personally use this all the time, players don't usually approach the class that approaches however keep in mind pyro is slightly slower than spy , so you can't catch up to heavies or spies could go soldier , except it looks less suspicious when you don't attack jump , since attacks look more like rockets keep in mind that you are slow players will NEVER check you , since it's such a subtle disguise hang around objectives and kills will come for you on their own... if you need to chase a kill, make sure no one is around and break your disguise the good thing is that no one spots you because of an angle the bad thing is that teams usually have a angles man , meaning the angles (your primary target) will tell you're a spy keep your speed

you become suspicious if you don't heal your teammates , best used if you are going for quick kills and then dying primary and make look very suspicious without enemies around best disguise if you are near enemies but your target is still not there yet changing your position often makes you look suspicious , so staying in one place will often fool most players you keep your movement speed and retreating doesn't look suspicious players basically will approach you as a reflex to your model without looking at your color (not too bad, but not too great either)

How to act while disguised

Scout : don't

Soldier : walk indoors so your lack of rocketjumping doesn't become obvious

Pyro : walk around flanks with your primary , strafe sideways if they have a flare gun

Demo : strafe sideways around objectives , walk around flanks if they are demoknight

Heavy : spam "medic" and "dispenser here" , if you're going to recharge your cloak equip their sandwich and crouch in a corner

Engine : hang around ammo packs and nests , use this if you're going to sap their tele in spawn

Medic : if someone looks at you , look behind you as in "looking for spies" until you're near them , so they don't question why you're not healing them

Sniper : equip your primary and look at chokepoints / the objective . NEVER look at your teammates

Spy : walk around flanks and ammo packs . don't stay too close to enemies . if someone picks an ammo pack , immediately wait there as in "waiting for the pack to recharge my cloak"
