Thinking Fragments Jane Flax, 1990 Thinking Fragments advances theoretical dialogue across a number of difficult borders Of special importance is its sustained interrogation of postmodern and psychoanalytic theory from the perspective of feminist theory Flax's text helps to bridge the gap between postmodern and feminist theory a gap which is largely the result of male theorists failing to pay attention to feminist currents Christine Di Stefano University of Washington Flax's long awaited book is even better than I thought it would be There are few scholars if any who could bring such a comprehensive rich and both appreciative and critical perspective to psychoanalysis feminist theory and postmodernist philosophy Her even handed attitude toward all three and the balanced scholarly and practical background she brings to her analysis is just about unique Sandra Harding University of Delaware

IN HIS NAME E. Christopher Reyes, 2014-08-15 One naturally assumes that when they listen to their Pastor Reverend or Priest that they speak the truth and takes for granted that when the Pope speaks he also speaks the truth Yet few Christians are conscious much less concerned to hear about the truth or of how they have been deceived for centuries and betrayed again by their sacrosanct religious institutions bent upon enriching themselves by their ignorance of the faith's history and gullibility This book deals with the truth the truth which many Christian sects do not wish to convey to their followers For almost two thousand years Christians have maintained that Jesus was God incarnate a sinless man a man born of a virgin mother a man who was the embodiment of perfection on earth which is unflinchingly stated in their Christian Bibles the New Testament Jesus Who did no sin neither was guile found in his mouth I Peter 2 22 King James Authorized Version Cf Luke 2 48 Joseph is Jesus father We are dying today from the fact of not having anyone who knows how to lay down his life for the Truth Pierre Teilhard de Chardin S J quoted in The Jesuits The Society of Jesus and the Betrayal of the Roman Catholic Church by Malachi Martin author of Vatican and The Final Conclave pg 286 1987

Questioning Minds Guy Davenport, Hugh Kenner, 2018-10-30. The most intellectually exhilarating work published in 2018. A lasting treasure. Michael Dirda, The Washington Post, Hugh Kenner, 1923, 2003, and Guy Davenport, 1927, 2005. First met in September 1953 when each gave a paper on Ezra Pound at Columbia University. They met again in the fall of 1957 and their correspondence begins with Kenner's letter of March 7, 1958. In the next forty-four years they exchanged over one thousand letters. An extraordinary document of a literary friendship that lasted half a century, the letters represent one of the great and with the dawn of the age of text and Twitter, one of the last major epistolary exchanges of its kind. Students and lovers of modernism will find in the letters matchless engagements with Eliot, Joyce, Beckett, Basil Bunting, Charles Tomlinson, R. Buckminster Fuller, Stan Brakhage, Jonathan Williams, and the American modernists, William Carlos Williams, Marianne Moore, and Louis Zukofsky. The correspondence ends with Kenner's letter of August 9, 2002, lamenting how they had drifted apart. The extensive notes and cross-referencing of archival sources in Questioning Minds are a major contribution to the study of literary modernism. The letters contained within explore how new works were conceived and developed by both writers. They record faithfully and with candor the urgency that each brought to his intellectual and creative pursuits. Here is a singular opportunity to follow the development of their unique fictions and essays.
