Wheat That Springeth Green:

Wheat that Springeth Green James Earl Powers, 1990 Wheat that Springeth Green J.F. Powers, 2000-05-31

Wheat That Springeth Green J F Powers s beautifully realized final work is a comic foray into the commercialized wilderness of modern American life Its hero Joe Hackett is a high school track star who sets out to be a saint But seminary life and priestly apprenticeship soon damp his ardor and by the time he has been given a parish of his own he has traded in his hair shirt for the consolations of baseball and beer Meanwhile Joe s higher ups are pressing for an increase in profits from the collection plate suburban Inglenook s biggest business wants to launch its new line of missiles with a blessing and not all that far away in Vietnam a war is going on Joe wants to duck and cover but in the end almost in spite of himself he is condemned to do something right J F Powers was a virtuoso of the American language with a perfect ear for the telling cliché and an unflinching eye for the kitsch that clutters up our lives This funny and very moving novel about the making and remaking of a priest is one of his finest achievements

Cathedrals of Bone John C. Waldmeir, 2009-08-25 The metaphor of the Church as a body has shaped Catholic thinking since the Second Vatican Council Its influence on theological inquiries into Catholic nature and practice is well known less obvious is the way it has shaped a generation of Catholic imaginative writers Cathedrals of Bone is the first full length study of a cohort of Catholic authors whose art takes seriously the themes of the Council from novelists such as Mary Gordon Ron Hansen Louise Erdrich and J F Powers to poets such as Annie Dillard Mary Karr Lucia Perillo and Anne Carson to the Pulitzer Prize winning playwright John Patrick Shanley Motivated by the inspirational yet thoroughly incarnational rhetoric of Vatican II each of these writers encourages readers to think about the human body as a site perhaps the most important site of interaction between God and human beings Although they represent the body in different ways these late twentieth century Catholic artists share a sense of its inherent value Moreover they use ideas and terminology from the rich tradition of Catholic sacramentality especially as it was articulated in the documents of Vatican II to describe that value In this way they challenge the Church to take its own tradition seriously and to reconsider its relationship to a relatively recent apologetics that has emphasized a narrow view of human reason and a rigid sense of orthodoxy
