Intercultural communication, therefore, is the act of communication when the message sender is from one culture and the message receiver is from another culture. Successful intercultural communication is the establishment and sharing of common meanings in the sender-receiver. (Meanings are in people, not in messages). This process is obviously complicated and influenced by cultural factors, such as those mentioned above, not to mention language differences and patterns of thinking.

Cultural factor awareness

Cultural factors should be looked at for similarities and differences. The differences, thus isolated, would no doubt define problem areas in communicating, and the similarities should aid the successful intercultural communications. Absolute
