Air Wars Jerold M. Starr, 2000 Air Wars tells how a grassroots movement of concerned citizens were able to overcome enormous institutional influence in their quest for public accountability. Jerold Starr exposes the political and commercial pressures that made strange bedfellows of the top officials of public broadcasting: the Democratic Party establishment Pat Robertson and the Christian Coalition; home shopping and infomall king Lowell Bud Paxson and billionaire right-wing publisher philanthropist Richard Mellon Scaife. What began as a bitterly contested local struggle that disturbed the serenity of Mister Rogers Neighborhood later became front page national news with revelations of presidential candidate John McCain's influence peddling scandal on behalf of media mogul Paxson. This was followed by congressional resolutions attacking the FCC's authority to regulate noncommercial educational broadcast licenses. The Pittsburgh case promises to be in the news for some time to come. Far beyond Pittsburgh Starr looks at how the reform movement has spread to major cities like Chicago, Phoenix, Jacksonville and San Francisco where citizen activists have successfully challenged public stations to be more community responsive. Finally he outlines an innovative plan for restructuring the public broadcasting service as an independently funded public trust. Joining this vision with a practical strategy Starr describes the formation of Citizens for Independent Public Broadcasting, a national membership organization with a grassroots approach to putting the public back into public broadcasting.
