Village Cats:

Classical Cats Donald W. Engels, 2018-10-03 This is the definitive book on classical cats The cat has played a significant role in history from the earliest times Well known is its role in the religion and art of ancient Egypt no less than its association with witchcraft in the Middle Ages But when did the cat become a domestic companion and worker as well There has been much debate about the position of the cat in ancient Greece and Rome Artistic representations are sometimes ambiguous and its role as a mouse catcher seems often to have been carried out by weasels Yet other evidence clearly suggests that the cat was as important to Greeks and Romans as it is to many modern people This book is the first comprehensive survey of the evidence for cats in Greece and Rome and of their functions and representations in art Donald Engels draws on authors from Aesop to Aristotle on vase painting inscriptions and the plastic arts and on a thorough knowledge of zoology of the cat He also sets the ancient evidence in the wider context of the Egyptian period that preceded it as well as the views of the Church fathers who ushered antiquity into the Middle Ages

Anthropology and Cryptozoology Samantha Hurn, 2016-11-03 Cryptozoology is best understood as the study of animals which in the eyes of Western science are extinct unclassified or unrecognised In consequence and in part because of its selective methods and lack of epistemological rigour cryptozoology is often dismissed as a pseudo science However there is a growing recognition that social science can benefit from engaging with it for as social scientists are very well aware scientific categorisation and explanation represents just one of a myriad of systems used by humans to enable them to classify and make sense of the world around them In many cultural contexts myth folk classification and lived experience challenge the truth expounded by scientists With a reflexive anthropological approach and drawing on rich empirical and ethnographic studies from around the world this volume engages with the theoretical and methodological issues raised by reported sightings of unrecognised animals Bringing into sharp focus the anthropological value and challenges for methodology posed by beliefs about unclassified creatures Anthropology and
