Solidamosc The Missing Link:

Solidarność Jacek Kuroń, Karol Modzelewski, 1982      A Marxist Analysis of the Soviet Economy Erwan Moysan, 2026-03-05

Analysing Soviet economic history through the lens of Marx's critique of political economy this book argues that the Soviet Union was a young capitalist country and further explains the collapse of the Soviet Union as the result of a capitalist crisis This book provides a comprehensive overview of the Soviet economy through a Marxist lens and provides a digestible definition of the capitalist mode of production according to Marx refuting criticism of his thought based on association with the USSR This book also refutes other theories about the Soviet Union such as the theory of a degenerated workers state theories of the Soviet Union having a new mode of production and even other theories of capitalist USSR as inadequate because they take the Soviet economy to be superior in some way and therefore cannot explain the Soviet economy's collapse The goal is not to unearth collect and present new data on the Soviet economy but rather a Marxist analysis of the Soviet economy based on a synthesis of existing empirical studies In doing so the book shines a light on the political debate around the nature of the USSR The book will be of interest to academic and non academic Marxists alike in economics politics sociology history and beyond

Red Flags David Camfield, 2025-04-24T00:00:00Z

Increasingly people are responding to the contemporary crises underwritten by capitalism by exploring the politics of communism Some have taken a sympathetic even nostalgic view of actually existing socialist AES societies past and present including the USSR China and Cuba and the Marxist Leninist political tradition associated with them They see these states as a powerful alternative to capitalism governed by parties genuinely committed to socialism and staunchly resisting Western imperialism But were these societies really in transition towards a classless stateless society of freedom the original communist goal Is Marxism Leninism the political approach that should orient people on the left now Red Flags traces the path from the 1917 Russian Revolution to the construction of the world's first AES society the USSR It also looks at the post revolution societies created along the same lines in China and Cuba Using the intellectual tools of historical materialism Red Flags argues that they were not in fact moving towards communism because the social relations remained fixed in class exploitation The workers were never liberated At a time of burgeoning anti communism from both conservatives and liberals this book is an accessible vibrant synthesis of the history of communism that draws on the latest research to develop a rigorous analysis of the contradictions and uneasy truths the left needs to confront if it is to build a genuinely liberatory alternative to capitalism

Protests in the Streets: 1968 Across the Globe Elaine Carey, Alfred J. Andrea, 2016-09-01

A really interesting and provocative take on 1968 This book addresses the truly global dimensions and the unexpected often long term consequences of that year of protest It's an original and highly usable comparative history sure to attract student interest Peter N Stearns George Mason University

The State in Socialist Society Neil Harding, 1984-01-01

The focus of all the essays in this collection is the problem of state power in Communist regimes The problematic nature of the relationship between state and society has troubled the marxist tradition since its inception and continues to be an unresolved issue for its contemporary theorists Western attempts to characterise the state formations of Communist regimes are equally notoriously debatable and fraught with methodological problems Both indigenous and Western attempts to theorise these formations are thoroughly reviewed in the early chapters of this book Later chapters each written by an expert in the field go on to explore particular issues the problem of nationalism within a multi national state for instance or the recent experience of selected Communist regimes in attempting to adapt their institutions to meet new problems Special attention is paid to the USSR in view of the enormous significance of the Soviet State and the extent to which it has served as a model Other case studies have been included on the basis that these state formations display unique features Yugoslavia that size and importance commends them China or that failure in the process of institutional adaptation is instructive for their pathology Poland What this book sets out to do is to bring a variety of approaches and a varied expertise to bear upon a very large but relatively neglected issue in contemporary politics the nature of the state formations of Communist regimes

Festival of the Oppressed Colin Barker,1986      Visions of the End of the Cold War in Europe, 1945-1990 Frédéric Bozo,2012 Exploring the visions of the end of the Cold War that have been put forth since its inception until its actual ending this volume brings to the fore the reflections programmes and strategies that were intended to call into question the bipolar system and replace it with alternative approaches or concepts These visions were associated not only with prominent individuals organized groups and civil societies but were also connected to specific historical processes or events They ranged from actual thoroughly conceived programmes to more blurred utopian aspirations or simply the belief that the Cold War had already in effect come to an end Such visions reveal much about the contexts in which they were developed and shed light on crucial moments and phases of the Cold War Pub desc      Marxism Today ,1982      For Our Freedom and Yours Giles Hart,1995      Prisoners of Conscience Gerard A. Hauser,2012-08-16 Prisoners of Conscience continues the work begun by Gerard A Hauser in Vernacular Voices The Rhetoric of Publics and Public Spheres winner of the National Communication Association s Hochmuth Nichols Award In his new book Hauser examines the discourse of political prisoners specifically the discourse of prisoners of conscience as a form of rhetoric in which the vernacular is the main source of available appeals and the foundation for political agency Hauser explores how modes of resistance employed by these prisoners constitute what he deems a thick moral vernacular rhetoric of human rights Hauser s work considers in part how these prisoners convert universal commitments to human dignity agency and voice into the moral vernacular of the society and culture to which their rhetoric is addressed Hauser grounds his study through a series of case studies each centered on a different rhetorical mechanism brought to bear in the act of resistance Through a transnational rhetorical analysis of resistance within political prisons Hauser brings to bear his skills as a rhetorical theorist and critic to illuminate the rhetorical power of resistance as tied to core questions in contemporary humanistic scholarship and public concern
