Spitfire At War 2:

American Spitfire Aces of World War 2 Andrew Thomas,2007-10-23 The first few American volunteers flew Spitfires with the RAF during the Battle of Britain Many more joined their ranks often posing as Canadians eventually forming three Eagle squadrons who earned a fierce fighting reputation When the United States entered the war the Eagle fighter sections were issued with Spitfires and eventually transferred to the Eighth Air Force In just two years of service with the USAAF 22 pilots claimed five or more victories flying the Spitfire whilst a further two dozen aces claimed part of their total flying them a testament to their skill and success at the controls of this legendary warbird Discover the experiences of a variety of American aces in their own words through first hand accounts interviews and combat reports in a thrilling read that transports the reader from the Battle of Britain to the deserts of North Africa to Fortress Europe itself Spitfire's Forgotten Designer Mike Roussel,2013-03-01 The Supermarine Spitfire was a classic design well known for its efforts in defending British shores during the Second World War However while Reginald Mitchell is rightly celebrated for his original design of the Spitfire the role of Joe Smith in the development of the Spitfire is often overlooked Smith was an integral member of the design team from the earliest days and on Mitchell s death in 1937 he was appointed design office manager before becoming chief designer Smith s dedicated leadership in the development of the Spitfire during the war as well as his efforts on post war jet aircraft deserve their place in history Charting the fascinating history of Supermarine from 1913 to 1958 when the company ceased its operations in Southampton shortly after Joe Smith s death in 1956 this book tells its story through the eyes of apprentices and many other members of Smith s team Marvellous photographs add to the sense of what it was like to work under Joe Smith at the drawing boards of one of Britain s most famous wartime aviation manufacturers
