Violin Murder Eric J. Carney, 2005-08-30 Caitlin R. Kiernan James Goho, 2020-08-28 Caitlin R Kiernan is at the forefront of contemporary gothic weird and science fiction literature She has written more than a dozen novels over 250 short stories many chapbooks along with a large number of graphic works For these Kiernan has won numerous awards This first full length look at Kiernan s body of work explores her fictional universe through critical literary lenses to show the depth of her contributions to modern genre literature A prolific and creative writer Kiernan s fictions bring to life our fears about the other the unknown and the future through stories that range widely across time and space A sense of dark terror pervades her novels and stories Yet Kiernan s fictional universe is not disengaged from reality That is because she works within the long tradition of gothic fiction speaking to the gravest ethical social and cultural issues In her dark fiction Kiernan illustrates the terror of the tyranny of the normal the oppression of marginalized people and the pervasive violence of our time Her dystopian sf propels today s dangerous economic social political and environmental tendencies into the future Kiernan s fiction portrays troubling truths about the current human condition The Island of the Great Mother, Or, The Miracle of Île Des Dames Gerhart Hauptmann, 1925 Domestic Violins Cynthia Morrow, 2013-07 When violist and amateur psychologist Althea Stewart and her best friend cellist Grace Sullivan decide to host an elegant memorial luncheon at Blanchard House for Althea s deceased mother in law Annabelle Pratt they have no idea that the event will eventually erupt into a full scale riot that culminates in the gruesome murder of a Russian chef With the Blanchard House basement washroom a blood splattered mess everyone wants to know who murdered the chef known for his killer lemon chicken including his long suffering family the local police Interpol a gang of Russian ex cons a determined stripper and a houseful of musicians who have come from LA to Kirkland Washington for a funeral but are suddenly prime suspects in a murder investigation While Grace worries about what the neighbors will think Althea sets out to solve the murder and finds herself facing numerous challenges including the unraveling of a longtime friendship surprising bequests in Annabelle s will the return of her alcoholic ex husband and his greedy new wife and an undeniable attraction to sexy detective Harry Demetrious In this gripping mystery the second book of the Blanchard House Mystery Series music meets murder as relationships change love blooms and death lurks just around the corner Louise Erdrich's Justice Trilogy Connie A. Jacobs, Nancy J. Peterson, 2021-10-01 Louise Erdrich is one of the most important prolific and widely read contemporary Indigenous writers Here leading scholars analyze the three critically acclaimed recent novels The Plague of Doves 2008 The Round House 2012 and LaRose 2016 that make up what has become known as Erdrich s justice trilogy Set in small towns and reservations of northern North Dakota these three interwoven works bring together a vibrant cast of characters whose lives are shaped by history identity and community Individually and collectively the essays herein illuminate Erdrich s storytelling abilities the complex relations among crime punishment and forgiveness that characterize her work and the Anishinaabe contexts that underlie her presentation of character conflict and community The volume also includes a reader's guide to each novel a glossary and an interview with Erdrich that will aid in readers navigation of the justice novels These timely original and compelling readings make a valuable contribution to Erdrich scholarship and subsequently to the study of Native literature and women's authorship as a whole
