Smart Hearts In The City:

The Smart Set George Jean Nathan, Henry Louis Mencken, 1925 Beyond Smart Cities José A. Ondiviela, 2021-10-21
Cities are experiencing unprecedented times In addition of managing the best possible post pandemic recovery Cities are at the beginning of the 4th industrial revolution and all want to play a relevant role in it To achieve this they must retain and attract the necessary talent There is a fierce competition where cities transform to become as attractive as possible But what makes a city attractive from emotional and rational sides to talented citizens For mayors and city directors how can I prepare my city for this goal What kind of transformations in the medium long term should I develop And in the short term what processes and technologies SmartCity should I put in place And from the point of view of citizens how do I choose the best city to develop my full potential Which one offers me the best citizenship contract Where am I going to enjoy the best services with the highest quality of life and lower taxes cost of life In addition the city must be attractive with a strong identity and dynamism and promising future Can I find the cities that best suit my aesthetic and emotional preferences and that also offer me the services that I consider a priority at the lowest cost to my pocket Find all the answers in this book

Mellin, Anna, Dahlstrand, Alice, Lewald, Anders, Mowitz, David, 2021-02-01 Available online <https://pub.norden.org/temanord2021-505> Sustainable Nordic cities with a focus on climate smart mobility is one of four projects launched under the Swedish Presidency of the Nordic Council of Ministers in 2018. The aim of the project is to contribute to a sustainable urban development by supporting the transition to fossil free and sustainable transportation in Nordic cities and their surrounding regions. The project involves collaborating and exchanging experiences with other Nordic countries to find solutions for charging electric vehicles and creating attractive and climate smart urban transport. This report has been compiled from some of the most interesting applicable examples found in the Nordic countries. In here we present policy recommendations and good examples on how to accelerate the transition to climate smart mobility and accessibility based firmly on these Nordic exchanges of knowledge and experiences.

The Smart Set, 1930 Dracula Urbanism and Smart City Mania
David Wilson, Elvin Wyly, 2026-03-18 This innovative book applies the metaphor of Dracula to understand a highly controversial reality that marks so many cities today: how the rage of smart city development and growth proceeds, is organized, and produces benefits for some and afflicts others. It also explores how social science research into these issues may be informed by the insights of gothic literature as conceptual bonds are forged between the social sciences and the humanities. Focusing on Miami and Mexico City, the book reveals a new quiet warfare being unleashed on the poor and a Dracula-like development conduct being rolled out that spreads rapidly across the globe. This book will appeal to students, researchers, and informed readers interested in urban studies, city planning, urban sociology, critical geography, and literature studies. The book is lucidly written and substantively deep to enhance classroom teaching and provide important details for research on urban redevelopment, city restructuring, and societal change. On the popular front, non-academic readers will find the book enriching and compelling as only a few books clearly and provocatively link the shadows of gothic horror with contemporary realities in cities.

Digital Twins for Smart Cities and Villages
Sailesh Iyer, Anand Nayyar, Anand Paul, Mohd Naved, 2024-10-17 Digital Twins for Smart Cities and Villages provides a holistic view of digital twin technology and how it can be deployed to develop smart cities and smart villages. Smart manufacturing, smart healthcare, smart education, smart agriculture, smart rural solutions, and related methodologies using digital twins are discussed, including challenges in deployment, their solutions, and future roadmaps. This knowledge, enriched by a variety of case studies presented in the book, may empower readers with new capabilities for new research as well as new tasks and strategies for practical implementation and real-world problem solving. The book is thoughtfully structured, starting from the background of digital twin concepts and basic know-how to serve the needs of those new to the subject. It continues with implementation to facilitate and improve management in several urban contexts, infrastructures, and more. Global case study assessments further provide a deep characterization of the state of the art in digital twin in urban and rural contexts.
