The Power of Religion Amanda Porterfield, 1998 Genuinely accessible to undergraduates and general readers it shows how various forms of these traditions are lived out in practice experience and community presenting religions as conceivable ways of living and demonstrating how religious beliefs are integrally related to other aspects of life Many chapters open with a description of a particular religious event or act that one might encounter today in the United States where virtually all of the world's religions are now being practiced The author discusses several of the historical developments each religion has undergone and considers how each of the religions has changed in response to the climate of religious exchange and religious pluralism that exists in the United States today

Self-Emptying of Christ and the Christian John B. Lounibos, 2011-05-01 This collection wrestles with a profusion of questions about kenosis What is the original meaning and purpose of the self emptying of Jesus How can today's Christians emulate it replacing our own selfish designs with the mind of Christ How is the current interest in servant leadership as a model in the modern church related to the self sacrificing servant of Philippians 2 Does this practice have any meaning in our present secular age Does it imply deconstructing the content of Christian faith and morals in contemporary culture Is it a possible bridge between Eastern and Western spiritual traditions Using the key theme of Jesus emptying of himself in the Philippians hymn John Lounibos explores the mysteries of kenosis in three strikingly different essays The first using extensive exegesis of the text opens up the poetic theological and spiritual depths of this Christian mystery The second essay establishes a philosophical grounding for kenosis in the work of Paul Tillich on the estrangements of finite human freedom The third enters into dialogue with the Buddhist tradition and its intriguing notions of nothingness and no self The attentive reader will be rewarded with a wealth of
