The 1900s Lady:

The Edwardian Lady Kate Caffrey,1979 Ladies in the Laboratory? American and British Women in Science, 1800-1900 Mary R.S. Creese,2000-01-01 A systematic survey and comparison of the work of 19th century American and British women in scientific research this book covers the two countries in which women of the period were most active in scientific work and examines all the fields in which they were engaged The field by field examination brings out patterns and concentrations in women s research in both countries and allows a systematic comparison of the two national groups Through this comparison new insights are provided into how the national patterns developed and what they meant in terms of both the process of women s entry into research and the contributions they made there Ladies in the Laboratory features a specialized bibliography of nineteenth century research journal publications by women created from the London Royal Society s Catalogue of Scientific Papers 1800 1900 In addition 23 illustrations present in condensed form information about American and British women s scientific publications throughout the nineteenth century This well organized blend of individual life stories and quantitative information presents a great deal of new data and field by field analysis its broad and methodical coverage will make it a basic work for everyone interested in the story of women s participation in nineteenth century science

Women Teachers and Feminist Politics, 1900-39 Alison Oram,1996 Women teachers were key players in twentieth century feminism They fought for women s suffrage before the First World War and continued their vigorous campaigns for equal pay equal promotion opportunities and abolition of the marriage bar into the less promising political environment of the 1920s and 1930s This book is the first to offer a detailed assessment of why women teachers were so politically active and makes an important contribution to the literature on women s politicisation Drawing on interviews with women teachers in state elementary and secondary schools as well as the records of teachers associations and central and local government it explores the tensions in the relationship between their position at the workplace and their family lives and unravels the connections and dissonances between how they saw themselves as both women and professional teachers

Advertising to the American Woman, 1900-1999 Daniel Delis Hill,2002 The author focuses on the marketing perspective of the topic and illustrates how women s roles in society have shifted during the past century Among the key issues explored is a peculiar dichotomy of American advertising that served as a conservative reflection of society and at the same time became an underlying force of progressive social change The study shows how advertisers of housekeeping products perpetuated the Happy Homemaker stereytype while tobacco and cosmetics marketers dismantled women s stereotypes to create an entirely new type of consumer
