The Camps of the Death Railway Ben Luto, John Grehan, 2025-08-30 As the terrible conditions experienced by the British Australian Dutch and American PoWs in the building of railway linking Buma and Thailand became known as well as the appalling atrocities the men suffered at the hands of the Japanese it was clear that an investigation would have to be undertaken Before war trials began the Japanese submitted their account of the building of the railway which is presented here What is also presented are the stories from the prisoners themselves from each of the camps telling in stark unflinching detail what really happened to them Drawn entirely from first hand accounts a picture emerges of men being driven to very heavy manual labour without boots to protect their feet from injuries which resulted in tropical ulcers and the amputation of untreatable limbs with nothing but a wood saw Of men dying of cholera in their hundreds of stinking maggot ridden open latrines and campgrounds covered in faeces from dysentery sufferers With virtually no medical equipment or medicines the Allied medical officers faced an unwinnable battle to save the lives of men so weakened from hunger and unremitting work at times for eighteen hours a day they could not fight off the multiple diseases which were endemic in the depths of the Thai and Burmese jungles As more and more prisoners became ill the number available for work on the railway diminished But with orders to finish the railway ahead of time the Japanese forced prisoners from their hospital beds out to work many of whom never returned When Allied officers tried to intervene to protect their men they were subjected beating from the Japanese and Korean guards Other brutal punishments sometimes fatal were handed out to the prisoners frequently for no accountable reason Conditions were so intolerable some prisoners tried to escape only to die in the jungle or be recaptured and executed Others simply gave up all hope and died quite literally of despair There were of course lighter moments amid the misery Elephants were used to pull heavy logs When an extra load was added to that of one elephant the animal refused to move As the normal method adopted by the Japanese with uncooperative prisoners was to give them a beating one of the guards hit the elephant The elephant roared and charged after him chasing the terrified guard into the River Kwai and squirted water at him through his trunk Through sheer determination in some cases or mere good fortune many men survived the horrors of the camps to tell the world of what was one of the most dreadful humanitarian disasters of the Second World War This is their story

The British Occupation of Indonesia: 1945-1946 Richard Mcmillan, 2006-05-17 Original and critical scholarship with a high standard of writing crisp and measured Relevant to a wide range of undergraduate courses in history This book revises history and presents new ideas on the British official interpretation of post war events in Southeast Asia the condemnation of British policy by many Dutch scholars and the ideas popularly held in Indonesia and by those sympathetic to the nationalist cause that Britain was playing a Dutch game

The War Against Japan: The surrender of Japan Stanley Woodburn Kirby, 1957

A Cruel Captivity Ellie Taylor, 2018-05-30 The harrowing story of the brutality and cruelty of life in a Japanese POW camp has been told in many books but this is a novel and sensitive presentation. Differing in a number of respects from other moving POW accounts, this book covers the experiences of twenty-two servicemen from the Army, Royal Navy, RAF and volunteer forces who were held captive in numerous locations through South East Asia including Thailand, Burma, Hong Kong, the Spice Islands and Japan itself. Some had to endure the inhumane conditions during hazardous journeys on the hellships and all suffered appalling cruelty, starvation, disease and prolonged degradation on an epic scale. Yet these were the fortunate ones; many thousands perished and their graves were unmarked. The book also examines the differing mental and physical effects that the prisoners' captors' cruel treatment had on them. The author's handling of the legacy of their experiences during the post-war years makes this moving book particularly important. For a full understanding of this dreadful aspect of the Second World War, A Cruel Captivity is a must-read. Ellie Taylor has produced a poignant tale of not only the suffering of these men but of the comradeship that sustained the survivors. The work has been well researched and help was received from the Imperial War Museum, Java FEPOW club and the Thai Burma Railway Centre. The Army Rumour Service (ARRSE) 400 Years and More of the British in Indonesia Richard I. Corfield, 2001 If there was an honour roll of bibliographies of the Malayan campaign and the Japanese occupation of Malaya, Singapore and Borneo, this work would come close to the top of the list. With over 4,000 entries, it is a formidable collection and there is no doubt that Justin Corfield's efforts will be valuable to scholars working on this important aspect of military as well as Malayan and Singapore history. Corfield has compiled a virtual treasure trove of hitherto seemingly untouched material in the form of original diaries and other unpublished personal accounts, including material not only in English and Dutch but also in Malay and Chinese. Three indices greatly facilitate the looking up of entries. Soldiers of the Sun Meirion Harries, Susie Harries, 1991 Unveiling Indonesia Library of Congress, 1996 The Last Great Victory Stanley Weintraub, 1996 From the inner councils of the Japanese to the fateful decisions to atom-bomb Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Stanley Weintraub brings to life this watershed month in which empires fell, old orders passed away and a new age began.
