Rushton and His Times in American Canoeing Atwood Manley, 1977-08-01 This is the story of J Henry Rushton a native of northern New York State who became world famous as a builder of canoes He and his craft were at the center of notable events in canoeing history in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Rushton was born in 1843 in a small settlement on the edge of the Adirondack wilderness In his thirties seeking to cure himself of consumption in the mountain air he built a boat for a trip into the woods Tradition has it friends asked Rushton to build boats for them too and his career was started Rushton was fortunate in his patrons In 1880 he was approached by the outdoor writer George Washington Sears better known by his pen name 11Nessmuk A frail man Nessmuk asked Rushton to build him an exceptionally lightweight canoe Nessmuk's solitary tours of Adirondack waterways in the 10 3 4 pound Sairy Gamp set a new trend in sports life His letters in the journal Forest and Stream did much to popularize unguided travel through the wilderness and to spread Rushton's fame Many illustrations including two previously unpublished sketches by Frederic Remington help tell the story here Five appendixes include Rushton's catalog descriptions of his construction methods a reprint of an article by Nessmuk an account of the Rushton canoes extant today drawings and history is a tale written on the water In the Adirondacks people have traveled conducted warfare hunted and fished gone to church proposed marriage and driven logs in on from or by water Without boats small and large Adirondack history social recreational commercial and environmental would be an affair entirely different from what we have come to know In this lavishly illustrated account Hallie E Bond presents a history of these boats canoes sailboats power launches outboards and the indigenous guideboat that figure prominently in the overall history of the Adirondacks The pre contact Indians paddled dugout and bark canoes in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries these craft were joined by skiffs and bateaux Between 1820 and World War II a distinctive tradition of boat building developed culminating in the famous Adirondack guideboat As the nineteenth century progressed a variety of small fresh water musclepowered boats was produced in the Adirondacks an assemblage matched by only a few places in the country There were the canoes and the men that made them famous John Henry Rushton and Nessmuk and the guideboats and their builders H Dwight Grant and Willard Hanmer In the early twentieth century the development of the internal combustion engine irrevocably changed not only boat use and design but life and leisure in the Adirondacks Bond skillfully captures the whole panorama of boats and boating in the Adirondacks from early dugouts and bateaux to the highpowered inboards that won Gold Cup races on Lake George and the Kevlar pack canoes of today Drawing on her experience as an historian and Curator of Collections and Boats at the Adirondack Museum Bond places events and trends of the region in the context of national and international history and describes the significant
