Locating American Studies Lucy Maddox, 1999 This collection of 17 essays first printed in American Quarterly the journal of the American Studies Association To mark the Association's 50th anniversary in 1998 the editor has brought together works by a group of scholars which she believes provide a window into the history and evolution of the practice of American studies Each essay originally published between 1950 and 1996 is accompanied by a commentary in which a scholar from a related field provides critical information for understanding the continuing importance of the work to the American Studies field Contributors include Gene Wise Henry Nash Smith Barbara Welter Alexander Saxton and Kevin Mumford

The Vernacular Matters of American Literature S. Lemke, 2009-11-23 From this study of Mark Twain Zora Neale Hurston and Ana Castillo arises a new model for analyzing American literature that highlights commonalities one in which colloquial and lyrical style and content speak out against oppression Doctrine and Difference Michael J. Colacurcio, 2013-10-23 The enduring power of many antebellum American texts trace their inspiration to Puritanism From Melville's preposterous but irresponsible quarrels with God to Hawthorne's instructed yet edgy evocations of earlier New England to Dickinson's finely turned little blasphemies Can one imagine that such texts were written anywhere but in the latter days of Puritanism Doctrine and Difference shows how the spirit and forms of liberalism are a necessary but by no means sufficient explanation for the flowering of literature in this period The colonialist writers were attempting to have things their own provincial way amidst an air of rejection by the cosmopolitan literary establishment Capturing the violence of repression the energy required to meet its moral argument head on and the disease of embattled survival this book shows how these works are in many ways the literary remnants of Puritanism American Historical Explanations Gene Wise, 1980 American Historical Explanations was first published in 1980 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions In this new edition of American Historical Explanations Gene Wise expands his examination of historical thinking to include the latest work in American Studies the new social history ethnography and psychohistory Wise asserts that historians address their subjects through an intervening set of assumptions or what he calls explanation forms similar to the philosophical paradigms that Thomas Kuhn has found in scientific inquiry Through analysis of historical cultural texts including the work of V L Parrington Lionel Trilling and Perry Miller he defines the forms used by several groups of American historians and traces the process by which an old form breaks down and is replaced by a new set of assumptions Throughout he aims to study the process of change in the history of ideas His conclusions extend beyond historiography and will be useful for those interested in literature social sciences and the arts American Studies in Scandinavia, 1974 Journal of
