The Worlds Chess Championship 1937:

The World's Chess Championship, 1937 Alexander Alekhine, Max Euwe, 1938 World Chess Championship 1937
Alexander Alekhine, Max Euwe, 1993 Undoubtedly one of the greatest chess players of all time Alexander Alekhine's play has influenced generations of players including that of the current World Champion Gary Kasparov In 1937 Alekhine faced one of the most difficult matches of his career to recover the title of World Champion from the Dutchman Max Euwe to whom he surprisingly lost it two years before This is Alekhine's own account of that match with game annotations from both combatants

The World's Chess Championship, 1937. Official Account of the Games ... With Annotations by the Author and Dr. Max Euwe. Edited by H. Golombek, Etc. [With Portraits.] Aleksandr Aleksandrovich ALEKHIN, Max Euwe, Harry Golombek, 1938 The World's Chess Championship 1937 Aleksandr Alechin, Max Euwe, 1973 Euwe - Alekhine Mikhail Botvinnik, 2019-10-09 The return match Alekhine Euwe was the most significant event in 1937 Both outstanding players were in excellent shape except for the unsuccessful game of Euwe at the finish Their games are a good material to study and first of all can bring invaluable benefits to all young chess players The match return of Alekhine Euwe is much more interesting than their first match in 1935 If in the first match Alekhine played several games roughly speaking adventurous then in this match he was playing in an actual style The same style in which he played in the 1927 match with Capablanca However even in this match he sometimes unreasonably complicated the position for example the fourteenth game it seems to me that this is due to different reasons no matter how strong a chess player is he can incorrectly assess the position When at the end of 1937 I commented on two games of rematch for the magazine Chess in the USSR I noticed that my comments differ from those previously published Moreover this is quite understandable comments can be unmistakable if the chess player does not write them in a hurry I concluded that it would be extremely useful to re-analyze all the games of the match despite the fact that they are well known to the Soviet reader I set myself the task of analyzing the games as deeply as possible so that the picture of the struggle was the most complete The readers with interest would re-examine the games It is not for me to judge how well this task has been accomplished In advance I must warn the reader that in some simple games I was not able to contribute anything substantial However in those games where the struggle was complicated here it seems I fulfilled my intentions satisfactorily

Mikhail Botvinnik: Sixth World Chess Champion Isaak Linder, Vladimir Linder, 2020-03-11 The Patriarch of Soviet Chess From the mid 1930s to the early 1960s one man towered above all other chessplayers That was the sixth world chess champion Mikhail Botvinnik His calm deep analytical approach supplemented by careful attention to his mental and physical conditioning served him well throughout his career Now in the sixth volume of the World Chess Champions Series by Isaak and Vladimir Linder you will learn all about the chess advances and achievements of the Patriarch of Soviet chess about his life and scholarly pursuit and his contributions to the various phases of the game opening middlegame and endgame Botvinnik was no less influential when he assumed the role of teacher

Graduates of his school included such powerful players as Garry Kasparov Vladimir Kramnik Sergei Tiviakov and Alexei Shirov This book presents almost 150 of Botvinnik's best games and endings with fresh annotations by German grandmaster Karsten Müller along with crosstables and many archival photographs We invite you on journey to explore the life and games of one of the greatest and most influential world champions ever Alexander Alekhine's Chess Games, 1902-1946 Leonard M.
