Towards Wider Ecumenism:

Towards Wider Ecumenism M. A. Thomas, 1993 Christianity and the Wider Ecumenism Peter C. Phan, 1990 How has Christian tradition developed its understanding of the problem of salvation for non Christians How do the Christian churches appraise the spiritual values of those other religions whose members collectively make up the majority of mankind

Christianity and the Wider Ecumenism explores the growing shift from efforts toward unity within Christianity to broader more far reaching attempts at greater harmony among world religions the wider ecumenism Editor Peter Phan traces the trend back to the Second Vatican Council 1962 65 but notes that in the last ten years or so the movement has become pronounced in addition to Vatican II the World Council of Churches has established a Dialogue with People of Living Faiths and ideologies Also the growing number of courses on campus in comparative religions testifies to the critical importance of interfaith studies and dialogue in our religiously plural world Despite resistance by some Christians to this new trend there is a willingness on the part of others to support the wider ecumenism even to abandon any claim to Christ s Christianity s uniqueness definitiveness absoluteness and superiority They rightly point to the need for faith in God as Absolute Mystery to Christian praxis in favor of justice and freedom and to the enormous historical suffering and conflicts caused by the myth of Christian uniqueness They add that we live today in a world village in which dialogue with other religionists and societies as full equals is imperative perhaps for our very survival Not mere contact but active cooperation and mutual understanding is required now more than ever to deal with urgent global issues involving mass poverty and starvation religious fanaticism the threat to the environment and the omnipresent danger of nuclear destruction These problems are far too important to be left to governments The essays in this volume are the Product of fifty leading scholars from across the Christian spectrum seeking to clarify and to affirm the immense significance of interreligious dialogue for Christianity in our new planetary society

The Wider Ecumenism Eugene Hillman, 1968 By accepting the full implications of current salvation theology Christians today are compelled to ask themselves precisely why they are Christians and why they should be concerned at all about the existence of the Church anywhere and at any time If the very same saving grace of Christ is universally available to all men simply because they are men and if all religions manifest an anonymous but nonetheless effective operation of grace then what exactly is the purpose of the Church in history The answer and thus the authentic meaning of the Christian vocation is to be found only in a dynamic pentecostal evangelical ecumenical and sacramental relationship with all the others the vast majority of human beings who must live and die with no one to tell them of Christ Without this living relationship and the far reaching demands proceeding therefrom our Christianity is simply the moribund culture religion of Western man and our churches are indeed the sepulchres of God For Christians are true to their calling and the Church is alive only to the extent that they exist for the whole of humanity

Spirit Flowing Like Water Nausikaa Haupt, Olle Kristenson, Michael Nausner, Gregory Ryan, 2025-06-19 What if churches focused less on wanting other Christian traditions to become more like theirs and more on exploring what they might learn from them Might this not only help churches to deepen faith mission and service but also revitalize the ecumenical landscape with new possibilities This is the provocative and inspiring vision presented by Receptive Ecumenism a movement which has crossed denominations and continents engaging church leaders ecumenists scholars and Christians in their everyday lives Spirit Flowing Like Water presents the latest conversations in this field It not only engages leading scholars and practitioners of Receptive Ecumenism between churches but also explores the possibility of learning from difference within a church community Internal Receptive Ecumenism and adapting the approach to a wider ecumenism beyond the visible church Church leaders ecumenists and theologians from five continents have contributed chapters on transforming ecumenism practicing mission in context and broadening the horizon They write not only for those already engaged in ecumenical work but with an invitation to all communities leaders and individuals to take a fresh look at what walking together in Christ means in our polarized world

Handbook of Theological Education in World Christianity Dietrich Werner, David Esterline, Namsoon Kang, Joshva Raja, 2010-11-19 The Handbook of Theological Education in World Christianity is the first attempt to map and analyze developments in theological education on a global scale This volume with contributions from 98 leaders in theological education from around the world provides a comprehensive introduction to the major themes and contexts in the international discourse on theological education surveys of the issues and challenges faced in different regions and introductory essays on the developments in the major denominational families in World Christianity The editors are Dietrich Werner World Council of Churches Geneva David Esterline McCormick Theological Seminary Chicago Namsoon Kang Brite Divinity School Fort Worth and Joshva Raja Queen s Foundation Birmingham

Christians Meeting Hindus Bob Robinson, 2011-06-16

With rare exceptions serious intentional reflective and sustained interfaith encounter is a novel and recent enterprise This book looks in detail at one such encounter the intentional recent Hindu Christian dialog in India and asks why and how the practice of dialog came to replace previous attitudes of confrontation and monologue especially on the part of Christians Part I sets the encounter in its global context Part II offers a comprehensive and critical analysis of the actual encounter Part III draws on aspects of the Christian tradition as it critically examines the ways in which the dialog has been justified in Christological categories A final chapter discusses the future of the encounter Unlike many other works in the area of interfaith studies this work combines both descriptive detail of the actual encounter and critical theological analysis of the strengths and weakness of the dialog model
