

Sun Prairie Public Library: Wednesday, April 30 @ 6:00 p.m.

Join New Berlin author Kevin Kluesner in conversation with fellow author Tracey S. Phillips as they discuss the art of fiction writing and his thriller series set in Milwaukee and Wisconsin.

Kevin has discussed his latest novel, The Killers' Terms, on WTMJ4 TV's Morning Blend and 620AM Radio's "What's On Tap" show with host Sandy Maxx. He appeared on Wisconsin Public Radio's "The Larry Meiller Show" on April 17.

Madison's own, Tracey S. Phillips writes psychological thrillers and spicy romantic Suspense. She is the author of Best Kept Secrets.

Kevin's books will be available for purchase & signing at the event.

Trace Prairie Writers On Writing:

What the World was Saying when I Made It, in Trace Birk Sproxtton, 1986      Trace Birk Sproxtton, 1986 Trace is a collection of writing from some of the finest writers on the prairies These statements take the forms of essays interviews rants manifestos notes and poems most of which were written expressly for this book A vibrant current of voices that sounds the depth and breadth of Canadian prairie writing Book jacket      Toward Defining the Prairies Robert Wardhaugh, 2001-04-30 New ways of thinking about literature and history have radically changed how we think about or even define a region like the Prairie West In fact the very concept of defining has come into question by new theoretical approaches and it may now seem a hopeless endeavour But the process of defining can be just as important as the actual production of a definition Toward Defining the Prairies highlights recent approaches to thinking about the Prairie West Bounded by pieces from well known historian Gerald Friesen and Governor General s Award winning writer Robert Kroetsch these 13 essays are as diverse as the region itself In their examination of different aspects of Prairie history literature climate society culture and identity they help to provide a new understanding of this place and of the complexities of its definition

Reference Sources for Canadian Literary Studies Joseph Jones, 2005-01-01 Reference Sources for Canadian Literary Studies offers the first full scale bibliography of writing on and in the field of Canadian literary studies Approximately one thousand annotated entries are arranged by reference genre with sub groupings related to literary genre      Writing the Terrain Robert M. Stamp, 2005 Writing the Terrain is the first anthology dedicated solely to the poetry of the Alberta landscape and cityscape by authors who have travelled the main roads back roads and gravel roads of this vast province This collection offers a series of poetic journeys through Calgary and Edmonton through the Foothills the Badlands the Rockies the Central Parklands and the Northern Boreal forests Following in the Canadian literary tradition of preoccupation with place these are poems that demonstrate a response to the landscape and ponder its effect on the body mind and spirit BOOK JACKET      Prairie Fire , 1987      Why Write? Paula Kelly Harline, Lisa Bernotski Johnson, 2006-04      Kristjana Gunnars Monique Tschofen, 2004 The writings collected here all testify to the complexity of Gunnars s literary vision as much as they testify to the sheer pleasures of reading her work In her interview Gunnars speaks both as a reader and a writer describing the form and modes of address of her work as well as the philosophical and literary traditions she draws from The nine essays and two poems that follow organized chronologically according to the publication dates of the primary texts they treat represent a broad range of approaches to Kristjana Gunnars s work The contributors are M Travis Lane Judith Owens Janice Kulyk Keefer Deidre Lynch Stephen Scobie Anne Malena Siobhan O Flynn K I Press and Christl Verduyn It is my hope that readers will find in this critical community some productive points of entry into Gunnars s corpus that will stimulate their own thinking about her words and ideas from the Introduction by Monique Tschofen      Lund Studies in English , 1933

Theatre and Drama in the American West Maria Szasz, 1998      Canadian Writers and Their Works — Fiction Series,

Volume XII Jack David, Robert Lecker, Ellen Quigley, 1995 A study of the Canadian fiction writers Sandra Birdsell Timothy Findley W P Kinsella and David Adams Richards Canadian Books in Print 2002 Marian Butler, 2002-02 Great Stories from the Prairies Birk Sproxton, 2000 As expansive as a prairie sky as refreshing as a cool breeze on a hot summer day Great Stories from the Prairies collects the best prairie stories of the last one hundred years From Frederick Phillip Grove's classic Snow to the contemporary delights of Sandra Birdsell and Carol Shields prairie writers have existed always in relation to landscape and a strong sense of place Tracing the development of prairie writing over one hundred years Great Stories from the Prairies reveals how broad the influence of landscape but also provides refreshing insight into its many nuances You will find for instance traditional cultural icons of wind dust and the vast expanse of land and sky But nestling against them you will discover the rich circuitry of city life as in the stories of Guy Vanderhaeghe Carol Shields and Meeka Walsh Playing off that nuance are the parklands and boreal forests of Kristjana Gunnars and W D Valgardson's great inland sea of Lake Winnipeg But perhaps Great Stories from the the Prairies is best characterized by Margaret Laurence who speculates about how prairie dwellers with their horizon accustomed eyes see the world differently from other Canadians This unique collection celebrates that distinct view Scatology and Civility in the English-Canadian Novel Reinhold Kramer, 1997 Except as eighteenth century satiric invective scatology has almost never been the subject of a full length study this despite the insistent references to bodily functions in postwar Canadian literature This eccentric and interdisciplinary study provides a full listing of examples of scatology in a wide range of Canadian novels from the nineteenth century to the present and in so doing develops another kind of thematic approach to Canadian prose Since pollution rites are a culture specific language scatology sets up categories of class race and gender although Kramer argues that material signifiers refer to the world and are never purely rhetorical Scatology as used by Canadian novelists thus raises epistemological problems alternately undermining and naturalizing political ideologies and religious beliefs Ariel, 1987 The Texture of Identity Martin Genetsch, 2007 Arguing that globalization is no longer a term defining only international cash flow but also includes the flow and exchange of cultures this book examines the works of three major Canadian writers of South Asian origin and born in three different parts of the world MG Vassanji Neil Bissoondath and Rohinton Mistry To demonstrate the complex textured identities of his authors of choice Martin Genetsch shows that these and other writers not only negotiate their Canadian identities but also explore themselves in the cultures histories and geographical locations they come from The result is a fine study of an important and defining aspect of Canadian literature Choice, 1987 The American Humanities Index Stephen H. Goode, 1991 Small Press Record of Books in Print, 1990 Signs of Literature Kenneth James Hughes, 1986 This language primer begins with a suitably esoteric looking chapter called The Language of Time It isn't until the second paragraph that the unsuspecting reader realizes Hughes is talking about the language of Time magazine which he analyzes as a piece of fiction Indeed for Hughes there is no such thing as a substantive distinction between fiction and non fiction

there are only texts that do things with structural techniques of syntax and signs Some of these texts we have commonly agreed to believe are fiction others we have commonly agreed to believe are fact None of these texts however has anything to do with truth much less Truth with a capital T In an amazing brief and headlong rush through the history of language from classical Greece to the 20th century Hughes demonstrates convincingly that neither the empirical world nor the metaphysical world has ever informed language Rather it is always language which informs the world Hughes s careful analysis of the techniques of the English language from Anglo Saxon verse to the latest post modern text constantly reminds us that language is always a made thing and that the empirical objects captured by language are never immediate but always mediated by the perception and the craft of the speaker or the author This book is a must for every serious student of language and literature because it introduces the reader so effortlessly to the latest vocabulary and techniques of structuralist criticism it is a basic tool for anyone wishing to communicate his or her ideas to anyone else and in any discipline The surprise of the book for the lay reader is that it is so richly entertaining Its constant demystification of the technique of communication we most take for granted common speech offers the reader surprise and delight from the first page to the last

As recognized, adventure as without difficulty as experience nearly lesson, amusement, as capably as pact can be gotten by just checking out a books Trace Prairie Writers On Writing as well as it is not directly done, you could agree to even more on the subject of this life, re the world.
