Tracking Skill And Manual Control:

Tracking Skill and Manual Control E. C. Poulton, 1974 Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports, 1967 Human Factors Engineering Bibliographic Series, 1967 Telemanipulator Technology and Space Telerobotics Won S. Kim, 1993 International Rehabilitation Medicine, 1981 Part-Task Training of Tracking in Manual Control D. C. Wightman, G. Lintern, CANYON RESEARCH GROUP INC WESTLAKE VILLAGE CA., 1983 Part task trainers offer potential cost savings in flight training programs in that relatively inexpensive devices might be used to train critical subskills prior to more comprehensive training in a simulator or in the criterion vehicle Part task methods are currently employed in many training programs with apparent success However there is no comprehensive statement of principles to guide users towards the best procedures or to help the maximize the effectiveness of procedures already being used A review of the part task training literature was undertaken to integrate the existing empirical data The review was intended to identify the more promising principles and procedures for part task training and to provide a coherent guide to future research Part task training was defined as practice on some set of components of the whole task as a prelude to performance of the whole task Part task procedures are intended to improve learning efficiency and to reduce costs Our review focused on the instruction of tracking skills for manual control Transfer of training was emphasized and crucial features of the methodology and of means of assessing transfer were discussed The part task procedures of segmentation fractionation and simplification were explained and procedures for reintegrating parts into the whole task were summarized Industrial Engineering, 1977 Perceptual and Motor Skills, 1975 The Learning, Memory, and Perception of Perceptual-motor Skills Robert B. Wilberg, 1991 Three main topics are covered in this book namely learning memory and perception The first section consists of seven papers and is devoted entirely to the learning of motor skills The papers summarize the current state of perceptual motor learning in general and highlight specific topics of interest to the informed reader The second section is divided between movement memory and perception In recent years there has been a decline in the popularity of movement memory as a research topic However some recent advances in cognitive science and parallel distributed processing in particular may now provide the basis for a renewed interest The topic of perception never enjoyed the popularity that motor skill learning and or memory for movement did However there is now a clearer understanding of the perceptual processes and invariances that affect how we perceive the world Others like the renewed interest in signal detection theory and quantal reaction time serve notice that the perceptual part of perceptual motor skills is here to stay IEEE Transactions on Man-machine Systems, 1968 Analysis, Design and Evaluation of Man-Machine Systems 1992 H.G. Stassen, 1993-05-18 Containing 4 plenary papers and 38 technical papers this volume contributes to the literature on the important subject of man machine systems The many topics discussed include human performance skills knowledge engineering and expert systems training procedures human performance and mental load models and human machine interfaces Proceedings of the 1987 IEEE International Conference on Systems, Man, and Cybernetics, October 20-23, 1987, Radisson Mark Plaza Hotel, Alexandria, Virginia ,1987 Aerospace Medicine and Biology ,1982 A selection of annotated references to unclassified reports and journal articles that were introduced into NASA scientific and technical information system and announced in Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports STAR International Aerospace Abstracts IAA
