Mother Jones Magazine, 1992-07 Mother Jones is an award winning national magazine widely respected for its groundbreaking investigative reporting and coverage of sustainability and environmental issues Sacred Summits Peter Boardman, 2013-10-01 Mountaintops have long been seen as sacred places home to gods and dreams In one climbing year Peter Boardman visited three very different sacred mountains He began on the South Face of the Carstensz Pyramid in New Guinea This is the highest point between the Andes and the Himalaya and one of the most inaccessible rising above thick jungle inhabited by warring Stone Age tribes During the spring Boardman made a four man oxygen free attempt on the world's third highest peak Kangchenjunga Hurricane force winds beat back their first two bids on the unclimbed North Ridge but they eventually stood within feet of the summit leaving the final few yards untrodden in deference to the inhabiting deity In October he climbed the mountain most sacred to the Sherpas the twin summited Gauri Sankar Renowned for its technical difficulty and spectacular profile it is aptly dubbed the Eiger of the Himalaya and Boardman's first ascent took a gruelling twenty three days Three sacred mountains three very different expeditions all superbly captured by Boardman in Sacred Summits his second book first published shortly after his death in 1982 Combining the excitement of extreme climbing with acute observation of life in the mountains this is an amusing dramatic poignant and thought provoking book Peter Boardman and Joe Tasker died on Everest in 1982 whilst attempting a new and unclimbed line Both men were superb mountaineers and talented writers Their literary legacy lives on through the Boardman Tasker Prize for Mountain Literature established by family and friends in 1983 and presented annually to the author or co authors of an original work which has made an outstanding contribution to mountain literature India Retold Rajesh James, Sathyaraj Venkatesan, 2021-07-01 India Retold Dialogues with Independent Documentary Filmmakers in India is an attempt to situate and historicize the engagement of independent documentary filmmakers with the postcolonial India and its discourses with a focus on their independent documentary practices Structured as an interview collection the book examines how these documentary filmmakers though not a homogeneous category practice their independence through their ideology their filmmaking praxis their engagement with the everyday and their formal experiments As a sparsely studied filmmakers the book through meticulously tracing a wide ranging historical transitions often marked by communal conflicts and the forces of globalization not only details the ways in which independent filmmakers in India address the questions of postcolonial nation and its modernist projects but also explores their idiosyncratic views of these filmmakers which are characterized by a definitive departure from the logic of commercial films or state sponsored documentary films More important in many ways these documentary filmmakers expose incongruences in national institutions and programs embrace the voice of the underrepresented and thus imagine an alternative vision of the nation During the last three years of the execution of the project thirty Indian documentary filmmakers are interviewed in this book Given the dearth of quality interviews and little theoretical engagement with documentary as a genre this book would not only fill in the gap in scholarship but also would serve as an authentic guide for interested readers and for documentary filmmakers alike
