Valued Places Landscape Architecture In Minnesota:

Valued Places ,2001 MetroGreen Donna Erickson,2012-09-26 In metropolitan areas across the country you can hear the laments over the loss of green space to new subdivisions and strip malls But some city residents have taken unprecedented measures to protect their open land and a growing movement seeks not only to preserve these lands but to link them in green corridors Many land use and urban planning professionals along with landscape architects and environmental advocates have joined in efforts to preserve natural areas MetroGreen answers their call for a deeper exploration of the latest thinking and newest practices in this growing conservation field In ten case studies of U S and Canadian cities paired for comparative analysis Toronto and Chicago Calgary and Denver and Vancouver and Portland among them Erickson looks closely at the motivations and objectives for connecting open spaces across metropolitan areas She documents how open space networks have been successfully created and protected while also highlighting the critical human and ecological benefits of connectivity MetroGreen s unique focus on several cities rather than a single urban area offers a perspective on the political economic cultural and environmental conditions that affect open space planning and the outcomes of its implementation

Lake Superior's Historic North Shore Deborah Morse-Kahn,2008 Lake Superior s North Shore the vast stretch between Duluth and Grand Portage is nearly 150 miles long with an abundance of state parks state and national forests streams and rivers and more than thirty distinct communities representing a broad range of ethnic and religious groups Many visitors have made the famous drive along scenic Highway 61 the central artery of this popular vacation destination but few are aware of the historical significance of the villages homes and markers that they pass along the way In Lake Superior s Historic North Shore Deborah Morse Kahn takes vacationers and armchair travelers alike on a unique journey along old roads and byways and into the hidden history of the land and communities along a stunning section of this great inland sea This informative easy to follow guide offers the history of First Nation peoples the historic fur trade years the development of Norwegian fishing villages and the heyday of splendid tourist lodges like Babe Ruth s famous Naniboujou traces of which can be found in the grand sites and unassuming structures that still stand today Detailed maps and practical visitor information help vacationers hit their favorite destinations with ease Deborah Morse Kahn works as a specialist in historic preservation and cultural resource management and is the author of A Guide to the Archaeology Parks of the Upper Midwest
