Vampires, Wine and Roses John Richard Stephens,2008

Vampires, Wine & Roses John Richard Stephens,1997

Featuring a rare story by Anne Rice a classic chiller by Edith Wharton and song lyrics by Sting this eclectic and original collection of vampire stories covers the gamut of genres from the dark pleasures of Shakespeare to the twilight terrors of Rod Serling

Vampire Legends in Contemporary American Culture William Patrick Day,2021-02-15 While vampire stories have been part of popular culture since the beginning of the nineteenth century it has been in recent decades that they have become a central part of American culture Vampire Legends in Contemporary American Culture looks at how vampire stories from Bram Stoker's Dracula to Blacula from Bela Lugosi's films to Love at First Bite have become part of our ongoing debate about what it means to be human William Patrick Day looks at how writers and filmmakers as diverse as Anne Rice and Andy Warhol present the vampire as an archetype of human identity as well as how many post modern vampire stories reflect our fear and attraction to stories of addiction and violence He argues that contemporary stories use the character of Dracula to explore modern values and that stories of vampire slayers such as the popular television series Buffy the Vampire Slayer integrate current feminist ideas and the image of the Vietnam veteran into a new heroic version of the vampire story

Vampires Are Us Adler, Margot,2014-03-01 Vampires Why do we care In these pages you will find what is very simply the most literate imaginative and just plain fascinating answer to that question ever written Whitley Strieber In a culture that does not do death particularly well we are obsessed with mortality Margot Adler writes Vampires let us play with death and the issue of mortality They let us ponder what it would mean to be truly long lived Would the long view allow us to see the world differently imagine social structures differently Would it increase or decrease our reverence for the planet Vampires allow us to ask questions we usually bury As Adler a longtime NPR correspondent and question asker sat vigil at her dying husband's bedside she found herself newly drawn to vampire novels and their explorations of mortality Over the next four years by now she has read more than 270 vampire novels from teen to adult from gothic to modern from detective to comic she began to see just how each era creates the vampires it needs Dracula an Eastern European monster was the perfect vehicle for 19th century England's fear of outsiders and of disease seeping in through its large ports In 1960s America Dark Shadows gave us the morally conflicted vampire struggling against his own predatory nature who still enthralls us today Think Spike and Angel Stefan and Damon Bill and Eric the Cullens Vampires Are Us explores the issues of power politics morality identity and even the fate of the planet that show up in vampire novels today Perhaps Adler suggests our blood is oil perhaps our prey is the planet Perhaps vampires are us

This Thing of Darkness Richard Paul Hamilton,Margaret Sönsler Breen,2004 Written across the disciplines of art history literature philosophy sociology and theology the ten essays comprising the collection all insist on multidimensional definitions of evil Taking its title from a moment in Shakespeare's Tempest when Prospero acknowledges his responsibility for Caliban this collection explores the necessarily ambivalent relationship between humanity and evil To what extent are a given society's definitions of evil self-serving Which figures are marginalized in the process of identifying evil How is humanity itself implicated in the production of evil Is evil itself something fundamentally human These questions indicative of the kinds of issues raised in this collection seem all the more pressing in light of recent world events The ten essays were originally presented at the First Global Conference on Perspectives on Evil and Human Wickedness held in March 2000 in Lady Margaret Hall Oxford University
