David Alan Black, 2010-10-18 Why do we have four gospels in the New Testament How were they written preserved and chosen In Why Four Gospels noted Greek and New Testament scholar David Alan Black concisely and clearly presents the case for the early development of the gospels beginning with Matthew rather than Mark This is much more than a discussion of the order in which the gospels were written Using both internal data from the gospels themselves and an exhaustive and careful examination of the statements of the early church fathers Dr Black places each gospel in the context of the early development of Christianity Though Markan priority is the dominant position still in Biblical scholarship Dr Black argues that this position is not based on the best evidence available that the internal evidence is often given more weight than it deserves and alternative explanations are dismissed or ignored If you would like an outline of the basis for accepting both early authorship of the gospels and the priority of Matthew this book is for you      Why Four Gospels? Or the Gospel for All the World (1876) Daniel Seely Gregory, 2009-05 This scarce antiquarian book is a facsimile reprint of the original Due to its age it may contain imperfections such as marks notations marginalia and flawed pages Because we believe this work is culturally important we have made it available as part of our commitment for protecting preserving and promoting the world's literature in affordable high quality modern editions that are true to the original work      The Four Gospels and the One Gospel of Jesus Christ Martin Hengel, 2000-07 No Marketing Blurb      *Why Four Gospels? Pink, 2017-11-14 Why does the New Testament contain four Gospels four different accounts of the same Man And don't the Gospels contradict one another Masterful Bible teacher Arthur Pink explains how the four Gospels do not contradict but rather collaborate in order to provide us with a deeper multifaceted description of the person of Jesus Christ In Matthew we see Jesus as Messiah and King of the Jews In Mark we are introduced to the Servant of Jehovah In Luke we see the human Jesus as the Son of Man Adam's descendant Finally in John we thrill to the supernatural Jesus who is undoubtedly the Son of God No believer can truly know Jesus without having an understanding of the four distinct roles He fulfilled in His time on earth Pink's in-depth look at the four Gospels will boost your faith and bring you ever closer to a Savior who is fully human fully divine and above everything Lord of all      Liberation Theology and the Message of Salvation Eugen Rosenstock-Huussy, 1978 Pittsburgh Theological
