Bank,2021-10-09 This open access book examines global plastic pollution an issue that has become a critical societal challenge with implications for environmental and public health This volume provides a comprehensive holistic analysis on the plastic cycle and its subsequent effects on biota food security and human exposure Importantly global environmental change and its associated systems level processes including atmospheric deposition ecosystem complexity UV exposure wind patterns water stratification ocean circulation etc are all important direct and indirect factors governing the fate transport and biotic and abiotic processing of plastic particles across ecosystem types Furthermore the distribution of plastic in the ocean is not independent of terrestrial ecosystem dynamics since much of the plastic in marine ecosystems originates from land and should therefore be evaluated in the context of the larger plastic cycle Changes in species size distribution habitat and food web complexity due to global environmental change will likely alter trophic transfer dynamics and the ecological effects of nano and microplastics The fate and transport dynamics of plastic particles are influenced by their size form shape polymer type additives and overall ecosystem conditions In addition to the risks that plastics pose to the total environment the potential impacts on human health and exposure routes including seafood consumption and air and drinking water need to be assessed in a comprehensive and quantitative manner Here I present a holistic and interdisciplinary book volume designed to advance the understanding of plastic cycling in the environment with an emphasis on sources fate and transport ecotoxicology climate change effects food security microbiology sustainability human exposure and public policy Study of Animal Life John Arthur Thomson,1892 The Circular Path Moharana
