

C. Dispute settlement by independent board: as we discussed before in case of collective labour dispute the parties are not required to resort to judicial proceeding, but to the labour relation board.

Note regarding Art 3 of the Labour Proc.

In principle the proclamation applicable to all employment relations based on employment contract (in accordance with art 4)

However, art 3(2) provides exclusions of employment relation mainly on 2 broad categories;

- a) Unconditional exclusions: under art 3(2), it is unconditional because the law expressly provided that the scope of the proclamation does not extend to employment relations listed under this provision sub art.

It should be noted that managers are excluded because of their expertise and knowledge they are capable of bargaining with the employer, unlike the ordinary employee, who is in need of favorable treatment. See art 3(2) (c)

Regarding art 3(2) (c), state administration are excluded unlike, state enterprise. The main difference between the two are;

State enterprise are work for profit, even if owned by the states and has their own independent budget (e.g commercial bank of Ethiopia, Ethiopian air line...), the reverse is true for the state administration. So state enterprise are covered under the proclamation

b) Conditional exclusions: see art 3(3), it is conditional because when the council of minister enacts the exclusion regulation or independent governing law they will be excluded from the labour proclamation. Thus, they are still under the ambit of the labour proclamation. Since they awaits the enactment of specific regulation. However, still the council does not enact any regulation so they are the concern of labour proclamation

Note on art 18(3) of Lp

One of the ground of suspension of employment relation is detention for a period not exceeding 30 days, provided that the employer is notified within 10 days or is supposed to know of the detention.

But what if the detention exceed 30 days?
