

The Spider and the Fly (1829)

"Will you walk into my parlour?" said the Spider to the Fly,
"Tis the prettiest little parlour that ever you did spy;
The way into my parlour is up a winding stair,
And I have many curious things to shew when you are there."
"Oh no, no," said the little Fly, "to ask me is in vain,
For who goes up your winding stair can ne'er come down again."

"I'm sure you must be weary, dear, with soaring up so high;
Will you rest upon my little bed?" said the Spider to the Fly.
"There are pretty curtains drawn around; the sheets are fine and thin,
And if you like to rest awhile, I'll snugly tuck you in!"
"Oh no, no," said the little Fly, "for I've often heard it said,
They never, never wake again, who sleep upon your bed!"

Said the cunning Spider to the Fly, "Dear friend what can I do,
To prove the warm affection I've always felt for you?
I have within my pantry, good store of all that's nice;
I'm sure you're very welcome—will you please to take a slice?"
"Oh no, no," said the little Fly, "kind sir, that cannot be,
I've heard what's in your pantry, and I do not wish to see!"

"Sweet creature!" said the Spider, "you're witty and you're wise,
How handsome are your gauzy wings, how brilliant are your eyes!
I've a little looking-glass upon my parlour shelf,
If you'll step in one moment, dear, you shall behold yourself."
"I thank you, gentle sir," she said, "for what you're pleased to say,
And bidding you good morning now, I'll call another day."

The Spider turned him round about, and went into his den,
For well he knew the silly Fly would soon come back again:
So he wove a subtle web, in a little corner sly,
And set his table ready, to dine upon the Fly.
Then he came out to his door again, and merrily did sing,
"Come hither, hither, pretty Fly, with the pearl and silver wing;
Your robes are green and purple—there's a crest upon your head;
Your eyes are like the diamond bright, but mine are dull as lead!"

domestic rhythms baking knitting and playing Punch Henry Mayhew, Mark Lemon, Tom Taylor, Shirley Brooks, Francis Cowley Burnand, Owen Seaman, 1868 Rollout, Policy Iteration, and Distributed Reinforcement Learning Dimitris Bertsekas, 2021-08-20 The purpose of this book is to develop in greater depth some of the methods from the author's Reinforcement Learning and Optimal Control recently published textbook Athena Scientific 2019 In particular we present new research relating to systems involving multiple agents partitioned architectures and distributed asynchronous computation We pay special attention to the contexts of dynamic programming policy iteration and control theory model predictive control We also discuss in some detail the application of the methodology to challenging discrete combinatorial optimization problems such as routing scheduling assignment and mixed integer programming including the use of neural network approximations within these contexts The book focuses on the fundamental idea of policy iteration i.e. start from some policy and successively generate one or more improved policies If just one improved policy is generated this is called rollout which based on broad and consistent computational experience appears to be one of the most versatile and reliable of all reinforcement learning methods In this book rollout algorithms are developed for both discrete deterministic and stochastic DP problems and the development of distributed implementations in both multiagent and multiprocessor settings aiming to take advantage of parallelism Approximate policy iteration is more ambitious than rollout but it is a strictly off line method and it is generally far more computationally intensive This motivates the use of parallel and distributed computation One of the purposes of the monograph is to discuss distributed possibly asynchronous methods that relate to rollout and policy iteration both in the context of an exact and an approximate implementation involving neural networks or other approximation architectures Much of the new research is inspired by the remarkable AlphaZero chess program where policy iteration value and policy networks approximate lookahead minimization and parallel computation all play an important role

The Spider and the Fly Doris Dasenbrock, 2019-10-10 This rhyming poem story centers on a spider that worries about where is best to build her web She chooses a site and is rewarded with a guest fly that is trapped She also catches and immediately eats a mosquito for her meal She is a spider with curiosity which leads her to generously take pity on the fly She bargains with the fly and will release him if he will tell her three things flies most like to do The fly makes a silent vow if released and the spider must honor her word to release him if he complies with her request although she becomes furious at his revelations The consequences of choices are reviewed Spider and fly facts are given at the end of the tale Lays and
