The British Nuclear Weapons Programme 1952-2002:

The British Nuclear Weapons Programme, 1952-2002 Dr Frank Barnaby, Dr Douglas Holdstock, 2004-11-23 The first British nuclear weapon test took place in Australia in October 1952. British nuclear weapons have been a source of controversy ever since. In this book scientists, doctors, researchers and others assess the military value, political impact, health effects and legality of the programme. The British Nuclear Weapons Programme 1952 - 2002 Douglas Holdstock, 2003

The Politics of Nuclear Weapons Andrew Futter, 2015-02-18 This book provides an introduction to political and strategic aspects of nuclear weaponry. It offers an accessible overview of the concept of nuclear weapons, outlines how thinking about these weapons has developed and considers how nuclear threats can continue to be managed in the future. It includes coverage of nuclear testing, proliferation, strategy, global actors and disarmament. Analysis of contemporary topics such as nuclear terrorism, a timeline of key nuclear events, annotated further reading lists helping you to locate sources for essays and assignments, summaries, study questions and a glossary of key terms. Free SAGE journal articles available on the Resources tab. The author will be providing regular updates to his suggested web resources so be sure to check the Resources tab for the most up to date. The Politics of Nuclear Weapons is essential reading for both undergraduate and postgraduate students taking courses in Nuclear Politics. Nuclear Fictions Michael Gardiner, 2024-11-30 In this book Michael Gardiner suggests that the conception of the war ending weapon was tied up with a longer commitment to unified space and singular progress. The mission for total weapons can be seen rising with the highly technical defensive war of the later nineteenth century and passing through twentieth century atomic research then the targeting of the outsiders of commercial empire and the post war consensus with deterrence as its foundation. The end of the Cold War brought an opportunity to fully naturalise deterrence but also brought a tacit acceptance of nuclear violence while forms of violence against the individual were rigorously sought out. If the world unifying role of deterrence has always been undermined by the rise of rival empires it has also been questioned by critical communities including the consensus sceptics of the 1950s, 60s, 1980s, 90s. Nuclear Criticism and readers of nuclearism, millennial campaigns for Scottish independence and twenty first century descriptions of nuclear colonialism. Recently it has become more obvious that an Anglosphere concept of worldly deterrence was bound to a singular and ultimately nihilistic idea of progress. Nuclear Fictions Michael Gardiner is Professor in the Department of English and Comparative Literature at the University of Warwick. Boots on the Ground Richard Dannatt, 2016-10-03 On 14 September 1945 the German High Command surrendered to Field Marshall Montgomery in 2015 seventy years after this historic triumph the last units of the British Army finally left their garrisons next to Leineberg Heath. Boots on the Ground is the story of those years following the British Army against the backdrop of Britain's shifting security and defence policies. From the decolonisation of India to the two invasions of Iraq and of course Ireland the book tracks the key historical conflicts both big and small of Britain's transformation from a leading nation with some 2 million troops in 1945 to a significantly reduced place on the world stage and fewer than 82 000 troops in 2015 Despite this apparent de escalation at no point since WWII has Britain not had boots on the ground and with the current tensions in the Middle East and the rise of terrorism this situation is unlikely to change Sir Richard Dannatt brings forty years of military service including as Chief of Staff to tell the fascinating story of how the British Army has shaped and been shaped by world events from the Cold War to the Good Friday Agreement Whether examining the fallout of empire in the insurgencies of Kenya and Indonesia the politically fraught battle for the Falklands the long standing conflict in Ireland or Britain s relationship with NATO and experience of fighting with or for America Dannatt examines the complexity of perhaps the greatest British institution Elemental Germans Christoph Laucht,2012-05-15 Christoph Laucht offers the first investigation into the roles played by two German born emigre atomic scientists Klaus Fuchs and Rudolf Peierls in the development of British nuclear culture especially the practice of nuclear science and the political implications of the atomic scientists work from the start of the Second World War until 1959 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2005 Nuclear Dawn James P. Delgado,2009-09-22 The obliteration of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in August 1945 brought the world to a stand still This unimaginable shock confirmed to the world that the race to develop a working atomic weapon during World War II had been won by the American led international effort Horrific and controversial even today these first uses of the atomic bomb had intense ramifications not only on the continued development of the bomb but also on politics and popular culture As well as the technological development historian James Delgado also examines how the US Army Air Force had to develop the capacity to deliver the weapons and examines the sites where development and testing took place in order to give a comprehensive history of the dawning of the nuclear age Maralinga Alan Parkinson,2007 In April 2000 a 108 million clean up of the former British A bomb test site in outback South Australia was being wound up It was declared a success and the Maralinga tjarutja Aboriginal people were reassured that it would be safe to move back onto their lands It was claimed to be a world first the biggest and most successful clean up ever But leaked documents show that behind the scenes the project had been increasingly troubled Some key insiders including the government s advisers say that the job was never finished properly In the process of the clean up Australia put large amounts of plutonium into several unlined unguarded holes in the ground the toxic waste blowing across the land in dusty clouds the site is a devastating legacy to nuclear testing not to mention the Aboriginal people who have been told it is safe to live there Alan Parkinson was the official adviser to the project but after he voiced his concerns about the dangers of the shortcuts that were being taken he was removed from the project and told to be quiet Refusing to be silenced Alan has been fighting for an inquiry for six years this is his story BMJ ,2004 The Mariner's Mirror Leonard George Carr Laughton,Roger Charles Anderson,William Gordon Perrin,2005 IBSS: Political Science: 2004 Vol. 53 The British Library of Political and Economic Science,2005-10-26 First published in 1952 the International Bibliography of the Social Sciences anthropology economics
