His brutally honest and sometimes hilarious anecdotes based on his plethora of personal experiences provide for an entertaining and proactive sojourn through the field of writing while encompassing the emotional highs and lows which almost all writers come to experience. Rutberg blends real-life examples and practical suggestions with the technicalities of fine writing as he moves readers through a realistic comprehensive how-to approach. A Writer's First Aid Kit also is a must for the academic world. Included are suggestions for writing books, fiction and nonfiction, screenplays, stage plays, television scripts, magazine articles, children's books, comic books, and more.

Writing and Selling Poetry, Fiction, Articles, Plays, and Local History
Marcia Muth, 1985. This book is designed to help both the beginning writer and the published writer who wants additional guidance in the marketing aspects of the trade. All the creative aspects of writing are covered from how to get and develop ideas to the ways and means of researching them. There are sections on copyright, contracts, and computers as well as how to solve the writer's block and how to handle the writer's horror rejections. An extensive bibliography serves as a guide for further reading. Wisconsin Bookwatch reported a thoroughly user-friendly guide written especially for novice writers trying to cope with the necessities of marketing as well as writer's block, handling the soul-crushing rejections, scrutinizing one's contract, and more. Writing and Selling is recommended as a brief, simply presented instructional reference offering meticulous step-by-step directions and as an effective starting primer for aspiring writers seeking remunerative publication of their work.
