Tracing The Paths:

Basics of Structural Equation Modeling Geoffrey Maruyama, 1997-09-22 With the availability of software programs such as LISREL EQS and AMOS modelling SEM techniques have become a popular tool for formalized presentation of the hypothesized relationships underlying correlational research and test for the plausibility of the hypothesizing for a particular data set However the popularity of these techniques has often led to misunderstandings of them and even their misuse particularly by students exposed to them for the first time Through the use of careful narrative explanation Maruyama s text describes the logic underlying SEM approaches describes how SEM approaches relate to techniques like regression and factor analysis analyzes the strengths and shortcomings of SEM as compared to alternative methodologies and explores the various methodologies for analyzing structural equation data In addition Maruyama provides carefully constructed exercises both within and at the end of chapters

The Magic of Computer Graphics Noriko Kurachi, 2011-06-01 Computer graphics is a vast field that is becoming larger every day It is impossible to cover every topic of interest even within a specialization such as CG rendering For many years Noriko Kurachi has reported on the latest developments for Japanese readers in her monthly column for CG World Being something of a pioneer herself she selected topics that represented original and promising new directions for research Many of these novel ideas are the topics covered in The Magic of Computer Graphics Starting from the basic behavior of light the first section of the book introduces the most useful techniques for global and local illumination using geometric descriptions of an environment The second section goes on to describe image based techniques that rely on captured data to do their magic In the final section the author looks at the synthesis of these two complementary approaches and what they mean for the future of computer graphics The Aesculapian Albert Tracy Huntington,1909
