Vanishing Britain:

Vanishing Britain Roy Christian, 1977 Vanishing England Peter Hampson Ditchfield, 1910 Rare, Vanishing & Lost British Birds William Henry Hudson, Linda Gardiner, 1923 Always at War Thomas Colley, 2019-08-01 Compelling narratives are integral to successful foreign policy military strategy and international relations Yet often narrative is conceived so broadly it can be hard to identify The formation of strategic narratives is informed by the stories governments think their people tell rather than those they actually tell This book examines the stories told by a broad cross section of British society about their country s past present and future role in war using in depth interviews with 67 diverse citizens It brings to the fore the voices of ordinary people in ways typically absent in public opinion research Always at War complements a significant body of quantitative research into British attitudes to war and presents an alternative case in a field dominated by US public opinion research Rather than perceiving distinct periods between war and peace British citizens see their nation as so frequently involved in conflict that they consider the country to be continuously at war At present public opinion appears to be a stronger constraint on Western defense policy than ever The Academy, 1914

The Boy Allies Under the Sea, Or, The Vanishing Submarines Robert L. Drake, 1916 Aboard a British motorboat two young naval officers pursue German submarines during World War I Portraits and Views Alfred Leslie Rowe, 2015-12-22 Academy and Literature Charles Edward Cutts Birch Appleton, Charles Edward Doble, James Sutherland Cotton, Charles Lewis Hind, William Teignmouth Shore, Alfred Bruce Douglas, Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, Thomas William Hodgson Crosland, 1914 Recording Britain David Mellor, Gill Saunders, Patrick Wright, 1990 In 1940 when the British landscape was under attack from the threat of German bombers the Ministry of Labour in association with the Pilgrim Trust commissioned many of Britain s artists to go out and paint a record of the changing face of the country before it was too late The resulting pictures of market towns agricultural landscapes rural industries architectural follies and wild places were given to the Victoria and Albert Museum Originally issued as a four volume set edited by Arnold Palmer and published by Oxford University Press in association with the Pilgrim Trust 1946 1949 This book presents a selection of the collection published to coincide with the exhibition held by the Victoria and Albert Museum London from 1 August to 18 November 1990 British Literature and Culture in Second World Wartime Beryl Pong, 2020-05-14 British Literature and Culture in Second World Wartime excavates British late modernism s relationship to war in terms of chronophobia a joint fear of the past and future As a wartime between but distinct from those of the First World War and the Cold War Second World wartime involves an anxiety that is both repetition and imaginary both a dread of past violence unleashed anew and that of a future violence still ungraspable Identifying a constellation of temporalities and affects under three tropes time capsules time zones and ruins this volume contends that Second World wartime is a pivotal moment when wartime surpassed the boundaries of a specific state of emergency becoming first routine and then open ended It offers a synoptic wide ranging look at writers on the home front including Henry Green Elizabeth Bowen Virginia Woolf and Rose Macaulay through a variety of genres such as life writing the novel and the short story It also considers an array of cultural and archival material from photographers such as Cecil Beaton filmmakers such as Charles Crichton and artists such as John Minton It shows how figures harnessed or exploited their media s temporal properties to formally register the distinctiveness of this wartime through a complex feedback between anticipation and retrospection oftentimes fashioning the war as a memory even while it was taking place While offering a strong foundation for new readers of the mid century the book s overall theoretical focus on chronophobia will be an important intervention for those already working in the field The British Architect ,1915
