Jordan: A Study in Political Development (1921-1965) N.H. Aruri, 2012-12-06 The past decade has been a period of excessive fluctuation in the distribution and exercise of power in Jordan and the land and the people have passed through some of the most agonizing moments of their history The political climate has been polluted with suspicion and repression and even when peace and tranquility returned the determinants were the external factors rather than the internal maturity and harmony of the system to create conditions of life which could ensure respect for law and liberties among the rulers and trust and confidence among the subjects The defeat of Arab armies in June 1967 stimulated the rise of a Palestinian resistance movement based in Trans Jordan commonly known as the East Bank This element has given a new dimension to Jordanian politics The government and Commandos are at cross purposes on practically every issue of public policy The civil war and the blood shed it entailed have further critically strained relations between the two This has perpetuated an atmosphere of chronic tension and insecurity in the country

Urban Dynamics in Black Africa William J. Hanna, 2017-09-29 Urban Dynamics in Black Africa presents a succession of worlds where we can study the development and the crystallization of major social change The authors trace the development of former villages towns and colonial outposts into major cities within the international community Open air markets continue their trading beside modern department stores as individual Africans create contemporary lives from old and new William J and Judith L Hanna in this unique work introduce new data and the methods of dependency theory class and gender analysis they offer connections between Africa s internal dynamics its legacy of imperialism and the international political and economic arena At the same time the book provides a model for studying the evolution of political institutions Urban Dynamics in Black Africa illustrates how social classes modify and are modified by existing cultural forms The book examines Africa in its independence by contrasting development and dependency role adaptability and conflict in a powerful conceptual matrix Detailing the urban conditions that exist throughout Africa as well as their costs and benefits this work shows how contemporary political conflict in urban Africa is based upon both ethnic and non ethnic ties and how these ethnic and non ethnic ties serve as the bases of a system of political integration unique to poly ethnic communities As a synthesis of the relevant available knowledge on African towns and town dwellers this book is concerned primarily with the effects of external intervention and socioeconomic modernization upon the birth and development of Africa s new towns and the rapid expansion of its old ones It considers the impact of migration and town life upon Africans
