The Journalist's Predicament Matthew Powers, Sandra Vera-Zambrano, 2023-08-22 Low pay Uncertain work prospects Diminished prestige Why would anyone still want to be a journalist Drawing on in depth interviews in France and the United States Matthew Powers and Sandra Vera Zambrano explore the ways individuals come to believe that journalism is a worthy pursuit and how that conviction is managed and sometimes dissolves amid the profession's ongoing upheavals For many people journalism represents a job that is interesting and substantial with opportunities for expression a sense of self fulfillment and a connection to broader social values By distilling complex ideas holding the powerful to account and revealing hidden realities journalists play a crucial role in helping audiences make sense of the world Experiences in the profession though are often far more disappointing Many find themselves doing tasks that bear little relation to what attracted them initially or are frustrated by institutions privileging what sells over what informs The imbalance between the profession's economic woes and its social importance threatens to erode individuals' beliefs that journalism remains a worthwhile pursuit Powers and Vera Zambrano emphasize that as with many seemingly individual choices social factors class gender education and race shape how journalists make sense of their profession and whether or not they remain in it An in depth story of one profession under pressure The Journalist s Predicament uncovers tensions that also confront other socially important jobs like teaching nursing and caretaking The Journalistic Code of Ethics Joseph Simmons Myers,1922
