The invisible medium criticism and the language of literature Mary Hursey Rahme, 1969 Narrative and Media Rosemary Huisman, Julian Murphet, Anne Dunn, 2006-01-26 Narrative and Media first published in 2006 applies narrative theory to media texts including film television radio advertising and print journalism Drawing on research in structuralist and post structuralist theory as well as functional grammar and image analysis the book explains the narrative techniques which shape media texts and offers interpretive tools for analysing meaning and ideology Each section looks at particular media forms and shows how elements such as chronology character and focalization are realized in specific texts As the boundaries between entertainment and information in the mass media continue to dissolve understanding the ways in which modes of story telling are seamlessly transferred from one medium to another and the ideological implications of these strategies is an essential aspect of media studies Community Media Ellie Rennie, 2006-07-27 This concise text will help readers understand the ongoing fascination with do it yourself media around the world Ellie Rennie explains how community media has since its beginning challenged the mainstream A clear and useful guide for students Community Media lays out the terrain in which community media theory and advocacy have located themselves including the ideals of participation community and social change The Medium and Daybreak, 1876 Media Transatlantic: Developments in Media and Communication Studies between North American and German-speaking Europe Norm Friesen, 2016-05-09 This book reflects recent scholarly and theoretical developments in media studies or Medienwissenschaft It focuses on linkages between North America and German speaking Europe and brings together and contextualizes contributions from a range of leading scholars In addition to introducing English language readers to some of the most prominent contemporary German media theorists and philosophers including Claus Pias Sybille Kr mer and Rainer Leschke the book shows how foundational North American contributions are themselves inspired and informed by continental sources This book takes Harold Innis or Marshall McLuhan and other members of the Toronto School as central points of reference and traces prospective and retrospective lines of influence in a cultural geography that is increasingly global in its scope In so doing the book also represents a new episode in the international reception and reinterpretation of the work of Innis and McLuhan the two founders of the theory and study of media Media Environments and Mental Disorder William Indick, 2021-05-13 The information environments that modern society requires us to master and engage in are based in literacy and digital communication Mediated information not only passes through our brains it alters and rewires them Since our environment to a large extent is shaped by the way we perceive understand and communicate information we can even think of mental disorders as symptoms of maladaptation to our media environments This book uses this media ecology model to explore the effects of media on mental disorders It traces the development of media from the most basic forms the sights and sounds expressed by the human body to the most technologically complex media created to date showing how each medium of communication relates to specific mental disorders such as anxiety depression schizophrenia and autism As the digital age proceeds to envelop us in an environment of infinite and instantly accessible information it s crucial to our own mental health to understand how the various forms of media influence and shape our minds and behaviors
