Business in Black and White Robert E. Weems,2009-02-01 Business in Black and White provides a panoramic discussion of various initiatives that American presidents have supported to promote black business development in the United States Many assume that U S government interest in promoting black entrepreneurship began with Richard Nixon s establishment of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise OMBE in 1969 Drawn from a variety of sources Robert E Weems Jr s comprehensive work extends the chronology back to the Coolidge Administration with a compelling discussion of the Commerce Department s Division of Negro Affairs Weems deftly illustrates how every administration since Coolidge has addressed the subject of black business development from campaign promises to initiatives to downright roadblocks Although the government s influence on black business dwindled during the Eisenhower Administration Weems points out that the subject was reinvigorated during the Kennedy and Johnson Administrations and in fact during the early to mid 1960s when civil rights included the right to own and operate commercial enterprises After Nixon s resignation support for black business development remained intact though it met resistance and continues to do so even today As a historical text with contemporary significance Business in Black and White is an original contribution to the realms of African American history the American presidency and American business history

The Negro in Business in Philadelphia Armstrong Association of Philadelphia,2016-09-07 Excerpt from The Negro in Business in Philadelphia An Investigation A summary review of this study shows a very large number of businesses of small size The small size of the busi nesses and the lack of efficiency frequently found may be due to one or to several of the following causes Inexperience lack of training lack of ability difficulty in securing capital The Negro who wishes to enter business is usually inexperienced and untrained and has practically no Opportunity of apprenticeship in the stores or offices of white business men There are very few Negro business men to apprentice him It is true also that no business courses are available for them in the schools but even if such courses were offered they would although of much assistance be of small value in comparison with the apprenticeships available to white boys and girls and young men and women It is not to be wondered at therefore that the number of Negroes in business is small and that they show lack of training neither is it to be wondered at that in spite of the superior character of the schools of our city such a small proportion of the businesses conducted here by colored people are conducted by Philadelphians Business opportunities for Negroes in the South are in many lines as good or better than in Philadelphia and in the building trades they are much better About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
