Political Animals Jesse Donahue, Erik Trump, 2007-01-01 Political Animals offers a unique study and perspective on the relationship between politics and the art found in American zoos and aquariums Jesse Donahue and Erik Trump examine the ways that zoos and aquariums have successfully served as sculptural gardens for the masses and have incorporated art and architecture that convey political messages about both the patrons and the animals This book demonstrates how art has been used for a range of economic and political purposes including providing jobs a medium to reach out to minority interest groups a fundraising tool and a surrogate for the animals themselves Donahue and Trump skillfully analyze and compare zoos to other areas of public art to highlight the calculated strategies on the part of the zoos that have incorporated a range of artistic styles for different audiences Incorporating photographs of zoo and aquarium art from around the country Political Animals is an exciting and captivating text for the mind and eye Zoo Edward Lucie-Smith, 1998-08-01 This volume is a gorgeous menagerie of animals in art Divided into themes from atavistic jungle to bovine farmyard it covers every habitat and features animals in the wild in the home at work and at play or just simply being A wide selection of work in a vast array of media has been chosen from classic through to contemporary artists As well as more than 300 portrayals of animals Zoo includes insights into the paintings short biographies of the artists and a selection of prose and poetry on the animal theme This is a visually delightful book designed to be visited for fun and treasured by animal lovers of all ages art experts and art novices alike Index of artists The Paper Zoo Charlotte Sleigh, 2017-03-08 Images from works in the collections of the British Library Drawing Farm and Zoo Animals Raymond Sheppard, Charles Frederick Tunnicliffe, 2018-01-10 This single volume edition combines books by two of Britain's leading animal illustrators of the 20th century Raymond Sheppard's Drawing at the Zoo and Charles Tunnicliffe's How to Draw Farm Animals Directed Drawing-V5-Zoo Animals abcschoolhouse.com, Tracy Jarboe, Stefani Sadler, 2013-06-26 We have included twelve directed drawings in this zoo animal themed volume Hippo Tiger Parrot Elephant Lion Monkey Giraffe Zebra Kangaroo Panda Camel Koala These drawings have been specifically designed for beginning artists Even the youngest children will experience success with these drawings If you desire greater challenge you may consider adding more detail to each of the drawings or use one of the additional art suggestions listed in each section All drawings are completed in an easy to follow five step format These step by step drawing cards may be used as posters on an overhead projector or docu cam Our directed drawing books are sold singly or in discounted group sets As teachers with over 40 years of experience each we have always believed that a hands on creative and balanced approach to instruction is the most successful framework for developing skills in young children As both parents and educators we know that involving children in the arts and providing children with ample opportunity to create while using a wide variety of media provides a strong research based foundation for academic development We have enjoyed and practiced techniques we have learned from educational leaders such as Mona Brookes and Betty Edwards However with a movement in recent years to teach to standardized tests many teachers have felt pressured to stop providing the opportunity to explore the arts We know that research has shown time and time again the importance of art in the educational process Children who are exposed to music and art instruction do much better in reading math and science They develop a greater curiosity about understanding of and appreciation for the subject matter being taught We know that providing arts in education stimulates better behavior personal esteem and socialization skills So why do so many educators discount its importance and so many children stop drawing by second grade The truth is that whole learning is a combination of current research sound philosophy and good teaching practice For many years we have been teaching presenting and publishing materials that integrate music art movement and literature across the curriculum Even though we now have a wealth of quality materials and training available to us as teachers we are always learning and modifying our educational practice and supplementing district adopted curriculum The activities in this book are not intended to replace core instruction but rather to enhance and extend the concepts taught within this practice These patterns may be used as independent practice and are applicable to both school and home learning We sincerely hope you will find these activities and patterns complimentary to your instructional program and that the children you teach will find joy and success in reading writing and drawing

Zoo Talk Patricia G. Patrick, Sue Dale Tunnicliffe, 2012-09-28 Founded on the premise that zoos are bilingual that the zoo in the shape of its staff and exhibits and its visitors speak distinct languages this enlightening analysis of the informal learning that occurs in zoos examines the speech of exhibits and staff as well as the discourse of visitors beginning in the earliest years Using real life conversations among visitors as a basis for discussion the authors interrogate children s responses to the exhibits and by doing so develop an informal learning model and a zoo knowledge model that prompts suggestions for activities that classroom educators can use before during and after a zoo visit Their analysis of the visitor voice informs creative suggestions for how to enhance the educational experiences of young patrons By assessing visitors entry knowledge and their interpretations of the exhibits the authors establish a baseline for zoos that helps them to refine their communication with visitors for example in expanding knowledge of issues concerning biodiversity and biological conservation The book includes practical advice for zoo and classroom educators about positive ways to prepare for zoo visits engaging activities during visits and follow up work that maximizes the pedagogical benefits It also reflects on the interplay between the developing role of zoos as facilitators of learning and the ways in which zoos help visitors assimilate the knowledge on offer In addition to being essential reading for educators in zoos and in the classroom this volume is full of insights with much broader contextual relevance for getting the most out of museum visits and field trips in general

Metamorphoses of the Zoo Ralph R. Acampora, 2010-06-14 Metamorphoses of the Zoo Animal Encounter After Noah is a volume dedicated to radically transformative approaches to spaces set aside as zoological parks or gardens Historically these establishments served as symbols of power and venues for entertainment but today they have taken to portraying themselves as flagships of environmental education scientific research and wildlife conservation Along with the past century s turn in exhibition design toward increasingly naturalistic architecture such portrayals have been received by many in an uncritically positive light At the same time it remains clear that zoos are immensely popular attractions drawing hundreds of millions of visitors globally per year This level of participation is consistent with the suggestion that humans harbor a strong sense of biophilia one which moves them to seek out diverse life forms when their own territories become too biologically homogenous from such a vantage it is no accident that zoos are most often situated in urban izing areas Metamorphoses of the Zoo emphasizes creative and reconstructive analyses of zoos that do not simply advocate marginal reform or quick abolition By focusing on issues such as interspecies progress and eco psychological health this unique collection will satisfy those in disciplines ranging from ecophilosophy to humanistic psychology to environmental studies H, Natural science.
