Mike Borlace is considered to be one of the most experienced combat helicopter pilots of recent times Now he collates his experiences in this compelling wartime memoir set against the backdrop of the civil war fought in Rhodesia during the 1970s Helicopters were a vital component of the small Rhodesian Defence Force and as part of special forces Borlace and his fellow aircrew soon became key weapons in the counterinsurgency operations Adopting new flexible tactics and blending stealth with courage they carried the fight by air to the heart of the enemy establishing a fearsome reputation In this vivid history Borlace chronicles the story of airmen soldiers and leading figures such as Joshua Nkomo and Robert Mugabe s communist backed guerillas from the perspective of a professional officer at the sharp end In Spider Zero Seven Borlace humorously recounts the training living conditions and hardships of his time in the forces He also touchingly depicts the human side of the military through his portrayals of his fellow pilots technicians medics nurses and flying with his dog Doris Out of the 1096 days he served as a pilot in 7 Squadron Borlace spent 739 days on combat operations During his 149 contacts with the enemy he was shot down five times and wounded twice He is one of only five recipients of the Silver Cross the highest gallantry award given by the air force With this authority he gives a powerful insight into the violent events of a brutal conflict in a book that will appeal not only to those interested in military history but also to a wider readership who enjoy a personal true life adventure A human spider Edith Shields- Aslachsen,1891 Chambers's Journal ,1925 A Manual of the Study of Insects John Henry Comstock,Anna Botsford Comstock,1901 The Spider and the Flie John Heywood,1894

Frisby,James V. Stone,2010-04-02 An accessible yet rigorous and generously illustrated exploration of the computational approach to the study of biological vision Seeing has puzzled scientists and philosophers for centuries and it continues to do so This new edition of a classic text offers an accessible but rigorous introduction to the computational approach to understanding biological visual systems The authors of Seeing taking as their premise David Marr s statement that to understand vision by studying only neurons is like trying to understand bird flight by studying only feathers make use of Marr s three different levels of analysis in the study of vision the computational level the algorithmic level and the hardware implementation level Each chapter applies this approach to a different topic in vision by examining the problems the visual system encounters in interpreting retinal images and the constraints available to solve these problems the algorithms that can realize the solution and the implementation of these algorithms in neurons Seeing has been thoroughly updated for this edition and expanded to more than three times its original length It is designed to lead the reader through the problems of vision from the common but mistaken idea that seeing consists just of making pictures in the brain to the minutiae of how neurons collectively encode the visual features that underpin seeing Although it assumes no prior knowledge of the field some chapters present advanced material This makes it the only textbook suitable for both undergraduate and graduate students that takes a consistently computational perspective offering a firm conceptual basis for tackling the vast literature on vision It covers a wide range of topics including aftereffects the retina receptive fields object recognition brain maps Bayesian perception motion color and stereopsis MatLab code is available on the book s website which includes a simple demonstration of image convolution
