Jensen, 2016-03-31 One of the most persistent slogans of Reformed theology is that it is reformed and always being reformed But what does this slogan mean This volume gathers thirteen essays written by a younger generation of Reformed theologians who teach and write on five different continents who together offer this work in Christian systematic theology Unlike many other works of Reformed theology however this book is framed by pressing contextual issues and questions instead of traditional loci Each chapter engages classical doctrine but does so through the lens of contemporary lived experience in particular contexts The result is not a theology where doctrines are applied to contexts but an approach where doctrine and context mutually shape one another The contributors take seriously the notion that theology is always being reformed and is always partial ever on the way hence it requires conversation partners beyond the Reformed family of faith The result is a study in Reformed theology that is thoroughly ecumenical

Cyril of Alexandria's Trinitarian Theology of Scripture Matthew R. Crawford,2014-08-28 More exegetical literature survives from the hand of Cyril of Alexandria than nearly any other Greek patristic author yet this sizable body of work has scarcely received the degree of attention it deserves In this work Matthew R Crawford reconstructs the intellectual context that gave rise to this literary output and highlights Cyril s Trinitarian theology received as an inheritance from the fourth century as the most important defining factor Cyril's appropriation of pro Nicene Trinitarianism is evident in both of his theology of revelation and his theology of exegesis the two foci that comprise his doctrine of Scripture Revelation in his understanding proceeds from the Father through the Son and in the Spirit following the order of Trinitarian relations Moreover this pattern applies to the inspiration of Scripture as well insofar as inspiration occurs when the Son indwells human authors by the Spirit and speaks the words of the Father Although Cyril's interpretation of revelation may consequently be called Trinitarian it is also resolutely Christological since the divine and incarnate Son functions as the central content and mediator of all divine unveiling Corresponding to this divine movement towards humanity in revelation is humanity's appropriation of divine life according to the reverse pattern in the Spirit through the Son unto the Father Applied to exegesis this Trinitarian pattern implies that the Spirit directs the reader of Scripture to a Christological interpretation of the text through which the believer beholds the incarnate Son the exemplar of virtue and the perfect image of the Father and accordingly advances in both virtue and knowledge This process continues until the final eschatological vision when the types and riddles of Scripture will be done away with in light of the overwhelming clarity of the Christologically mediated Trinitarian vision
