Sublime Failures David Martyn,2003 In Sublime Failures David Martyn argues that a return to Kant s latent Sadianism helps to confront the unresolved question of agency or how to formulate an ethic after the deconstruction of the subject in cultural studies theory Acknowledging allegations of Kant s empty formalism and even of his proximity to a certain Sadianism Martyn argues that Kant s ethics are valid not despite but because of their similarity to those of Sade In close readings that address the historical and material conditions of the composition of their work Martyn argues that the efforts of Kant and Sade to totalize systems of ethics philosophy pleasures crimes must fail but that the failure leads to important insights about ethics The book offers philosophical and rhetorical analyses of the two authors major works and focuses on two related thematic fields the economy of the gift and the materiality of writing Stories of giving and thievery in Sade are read in tandem with Kant s elaborations about what is and is not given to us in the phenomenal world and Kant s digressions on the challenges of writing a critique of pure reason are correlated with Sade's depictions of the crime of writing. A reinterpretation of the Kantian sublime then allows for an alignment of these two paradigms by showing how writing and the gift invalidate the teleological premises of traditional ethics. The book concludes with a critique of Lacan's essay Kant with Sade which provides an occasion to assess questions of gender, race, and cultural alterity.

The American Monthly Magazine, 1901 Between the Psyche and the Polis Anne Whitehead, 2017-11-01

This title was first published in 2000. Incorporating studies of Freudian and Marxist approaches to questions of history and memory, this timely collection illuminates how history is being refigured in contemporary literary, cultural, and theoretical studies. The contributors to this volume invite the reader to attend to the forms linguistic, visual, monumental, by which a connection with or separation from the past takes place. It is current thinking about memory's relationship to history and the ongoing critical reassessment of historicism that preoccupies this collection. The volume explores the ways in which current thinking about the past operates within a dialogic space and can be located in relation to multiple perspectives. Thus, cultural memory can be seen not just as a recent development within the field of cultural studies but as constructing a between-space which also draws in aspects of psychoanalysis. Similarly, trauma theory may usefully be conceptualized as operating in a rich and complex dynamic between deconstruction and the work of Freud.

Temporality, memory, and the past are attended to here in terms of the dislocations of narrative, of resistances to linear genealogies, to aid the reader in making unanticipated connections between theories and cultures and between the demands of the psyche and the polis.
